CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 1919

NUMBER XXXIX

MILAM COUNTY BOY CITED FOR HEROISM

Sergeant True Lofton of Buckholts Is Paid High Tribute by Divisional
Commander.

Sergeant True Lofton, Company H, 360th Infantry, 90th Division has been cited by the commander of his division, Major General Henry T. Allen, for "extraordinary coolness and courage." The young hero was born and raised in Milam County, the son of W. O. Lofton of Buckholts, received this high tribute in the commendations of the commanding officer of the 90th to those under his command. Several officers and men were cited.

To receive recognition from the divisional commander requires unusual display of heroic qualities on the battlefield. This was what Lofton did. The following are the words of the major general with references to Sergeant True Lofton:

"While conducting his platoon through terrific enemy barrage, Sergeant Lofton was wounded in the leg by a shell fragment. He refused to go to the rear, but continued to lead his platoon into position, thereby setting an example of extraordinary coolness and courage to the remainder of the command."

The incident above referred to was noted as taking place near Feyen-Hay September 22, 1918, in the famous St. Mihiel drive in which the 90th was involved. An order was issued shortly before the armistice was signed for a special parade and recognition by ceremonies of the men who had exhibited such heroic qualities.

True Lofton was living in Buckholts before being called as one of the first seventeen in the first draft for Milam County on September 5, 1917. He received his training at Camp Travis and went across with the 90th division to fight.

The grandfather of the young Milam county hero was a fighter in the Civil War with the South in the 60's. At the present time Sergeant Lofton is again with his division which is a part of the army of occupation in France.

In addressing the officers and men of the 90th Major General Allen, introductory to the special mentions in which Lofton was included, said, "Your superb comportment everywhere in France, as well as your unsurpassed battle exploits, have won for you a designation in the army of occupation. Your wonderful fighting ability and your superior manhood have won for you a place in my heart that will remain with me for all time."

CORPORAL TOM JETER BACK FROM FRANCE

Corporal Tom Jeter is back home after a few months in France as a member of the American Expeditionary Forces.

Tom trained for the service in the training school at A. & M. College and later at Camp Pike, Ark. He did not see any actual fighting as he reached France not long before the signing of the armistice, but he was there if he were needed.

He landed at New Port News about two weeks ago and went from there to Camp Stewart and later to Camp Travis. He reached Cameron Monday night and left immediately for Jones Prairie where Mrs. Jeter is teaching.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE ADDS NEW NAMES

Cameron Commercial Club Drive Results in Fifty-Nine New Members.

An enthusiastic meeting of the directors of the Cameron Commercial Club was held Friday night with a record attendance.

Chairman R. H. McIntosh of the membership and entertainment committee reported that after a drive during the week for new members that 59 new names had been added to the roll. This was the outcome of a specially planned drive by Chairman McIntosh and the new list of members brings the membership up to, individual members, 236, firm members 58, a total of 294 paying members. The dues of each member is payable in advance and the roll at present does not carry a single delinquent.

A united effort is being put forth by the entire business interests of Cameron, through the Commercial club, and since its organization last March the outcome of their efforts has been wonderful, and with the renewed efforts that are now being put forth at the close of 1919, great strides towards progress are expected. The membership roll now includes practically every business firm and enterprising individual in Cameron.

Important road matters were discussed Friday night. A committee from the Branchville community appeared before the club and stated that a bond issue had been ordered in their community for February 24 and solicited the support of the club. A committee to confer with the citizens of this community was appointed as follows: J. W. Coleman, chairman; Geo. T. Graves, J. D. Dobbins, T. S. Henderson and G. L. Avriett. Further action taken regarding this matter was a unanimous vote of the directors to pledge to the Branchville people as much cash as the Hearne people would give, provided that state aid was not available.

MILAM COUNTY COTTON DOUBLES

Only Fourteen Counties in State Exceeded Milam in Number of Bales Ginned.

Twice as much cotton was ginned in Milam county during the 1918-19 season than was ginned for the preceding season of 1917-18. These interesting figures come from Director Sam L. Dogers, Department of Commerce, at Washington. In comparison with other counties over this state the report for Milam county is an exceptionally good one. The exact figures for this county show that 40,078 bales (counting rounds as half bales) were ginned in 1918-19 as compared with 22,252 bales in 1917-18.

By comparison with all the other counties of Texas for 1918 we find that only fourteen from the total of 252, surpassed Milam, and most of these few by a small margin.

Ellis county led the state with a total ginned of 86,709 bales, followed by Collin, whose output was 66,830. Other leaders were Fannin, Hunt, Fort Bend, Kaufman, Navarro and Williamson counties. Several counties experienced an exceedingly heavy drop in cotton production this year. An interesting example near Milam is McLennan county, whose recorded number of bales ginned in 1917 was 70,553, but which fell off in the year just passed to 40,784 bales.

Bordering Milam county are five counties, only one of which in 1918 (Williamson) surpassed it in the number of bales ginned. The remaining four hardly make an interesting comparison with this county. Here are the figures for these remaining four counties: Bell, 22,584; Falls, 26,601; Lee, 11,776; and Robertson, 32,147. Every one of these except Lee county was ahead of Milam in 1917.

SERGEANT RALPH MAHON RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS

Sergeant Ralph Mahon came in Monday night from New Port News where he landed a short time ago after six months overseas service.

Mr. Mahon was in the 89th Division which is made up of Arizona men who were trained at Camp Funston, Kansas. He was top Sergeant in his company.

He left Camp Funston in July for Corporal Tom Jeter is back home received further training in the soldier line. He spent a month at the front. He participated in the St. Mihiel drive of September 12 to 20 where our boys did such wonderful work, pushing back the Huns. Sergeant Mahon was also in the big drive of September 28th and at this time was gassed. Mr. Mahon brings back the news that the rumor was current in France and in the east that the 36th Division will soon be back in America, having already received its embarkation order.

Mr. Mahon is delighted to be back in the United States with his wife and little son. Before he entered the service he was in the mining business in Globe, Arizona, and he expects to take up this kind of work right away.

Hold Joint Meeting

The Woman's Auxiliary and the Young Women's Auxiliary of the Baptist church met in joint session for their Mission Study class. This class is conducted by the pastor, Rev. B. B. Blaylock and the meeting Monday marked the beginning of the study of missions in the south. Mr. Blaylock gave a birdseye view of the whole book which proved very interesting and instructive. Special assignments were made for the next lesson which comes the fourth Monday in February.

With Miss Denson

The Girls Auxiliary of the Baptist church met with Miss Louise Denson last Monday. The time was spent piecing a quilt which when completed is to be sent to Buckner's Orphans Home. Good work was done and a good time was had during the afternoon by the young folks. At the conclusion of the work the hostess served her guests with hot chocolate and sandwiches.

BRANCHVILLE TO VOTE ON GOOD ROADS

Special Good Roads Election is Ordered by Commissioners Court for February 24th.

Citizens of the Branchville community came before the Commissioners Court in session last Friday afternoon at the court house and produced a petition for a special bond issue in their district to levy a tax for the building of good roads. The committee was headed by former county commissioner Van Tyson and included the following: J. A. Peel, Sr., J. A. Smith, H. V. Harlan, D. E. Miller, J. A. Peel, Jr., A. J. Smith, Joe Foster and Arnold Whatley.

The road that is to be constructed consists of a strip of nine miles in length and will run from the end of the pike road now leading out of Cameron through Maysfield. The road is to be built from this point, known as Harold's Creek, to the Port Sullivan bridge on the Brazos river, where it will connect with the Hearne pike in Robertson county. The leaders of the good road project in this community say that the bond issue will carry by a large majority, that very few opposed and that nearly every man signed the petition for the election. The court ordered the election to be held on February 24th, and efforts are being made to avoid as much losing of time as possible.

The construction of this strip of road will fill one of the two gaps in the road that has been designated by the State Highway Commission as the connecting road between the two Meridian highways that traverse the state. The other strip lies to the west of Cameron and is known as the Buckholts-Rogers road. In this community a bond issue is also being agitated and will doubtless become a reality in the near future. This project being finished, Cameron will have an outlet to both the Meridian Highways, being approximately half way between the two.

In addition to the representatives from Branchville several leading citizens of Jones Prairie, Maysfield, Clarkson and Baileyville were investigating with the Commissioners' Court in the interest of good roads. Decided progress is being made by the citizens of this section toward a general betterment of the roads in this part of the county.

UNCLAIMED HORSE IS PROBLEM FOR SHERIFF

Sheriff L. L. Blaylock has a perfectly good horse on his hands with no one to claim it and—the animal having a wonderfully good appetite, is eating up a whole lot of perfectly good feed with amazing heartiness.

The horse was taken from a negro deserter, Jim Young, alias Henry Williams, who was taken over by federal authorities and is likely to be sentenced for a long term in Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Furthermore, Sheriff Blaylock and Deputy Nabours have been informed that Uncle Sam has no record of any such horse being stolen from any of the camps.

"Unless someone claims the horse it just belongs to the negro," said Mr. Nabours last Tuesday in discussing the proposition to Sheriff Blaylock, who nodded assent. But should the negro be in Fort Leavenworth serving a sentence, what then? The sheriffs department has about decided to write the federal authorities for instructions as to what disposition will be made of the animal. Meanwhile, the horse, little concerned about questions arising over him, just eats, and eats, and eats.

Thos. N. Herring, Local Manager

Cameron, Texas, January 30, 1919

Colonel Nick Houx, who recently sold his paper, the Mexia Ledger, announces that he is now at leisure for the first time in forty years. Let's go fishin'.

Up to the present writing, it may be said that there is more harmony in the thirty-sixth legislature than there has been in any within our memory, and our memory dateth back some.

A resolution was offered in the Texas Senate on the 20th endorsing

United States Senator Morris Sheppard for the presidential nomination to succeed Woodrow Wilson as the logical candidate of the national democrats and prohibitionists. Sheppard is a prohibitionist and a democrat, with only one handicap—he is a Southerner.

It is easy to say "the mob should have been quelled," or "the mob should be punished," but did you ever try to do either? Perhaps you will answer that "it has been done." Yes, it has been done, but more frequently it has been tried and has not been done. It takes a superior force, generally, and a superior force is not always to be had.

A political conviction should carry with it as much sincerity as a religious or any other conviction. An opinion involving any fundamental principle of government should be acquired only after much thought. This requires time. It requires both time and much study to acquire an intelligent opinion on most any subject, and the science of government is no exception.

Bragg Williams, a negro, was lynched in Hillsboro on the 20th. He had been tried and sentenced to hang on February 21st for the murder of a white woman and her child, and his lawyer had given notice of an appeal, though Bragg had made a full confession of the crime. This lynching occurred in spite of the fact that every southern state is making a most determined effort to stop the practice, and simply goes to prove that when a negro harms a white woman in the South the mob spirit brooks no resistance. A deplorable fact, 'tis true, but a fact none the less.

Brenhan Messenger: The bill introduced in the State legislature having for its object the abolition of the fee system of county and precinct officers, is a move in the right direction.

McKinney Examiner: Wm. Wrigley the chewing magnate, has just taken out a policy for $1,000,000 on his life. That is an instance where a man literally chewed himself right—but he let the people do the chewing and he collected the pay. As a rule one chews himself poor, and the grocer rich. But Wrigley had something good for the people, and like a sensible man he told them of it by advertising in the newspapers. Moral, if you are not a chewing gum magnate, perhaps you have a hog for sale. Advertise it before it eats twice the cost of the ad, in corn.

Weatherford Democrat: Get your Irish potato ground in order now, if you have not already done so. The middle of February is about the proper time to plant Irish potatoes, and a large acreage should be planted in Parker county. There is moisture enough in the subsoil now to prevent a repetition of last year's disastrous experience.

SHRAPNEL

Going Him One Better.

The oldest good story is the one about the boy who left the farm and got a job in the city. He wrote a letter to his brother, who elected to stick by the farm, telling of the joys of city life, in which he said:

"Thursday we autoed out to the country club, where we golfed until dark. Then we motored to the beach and Fridayed there."

The brother on the farm wrote back:

"Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballed all afternoon. Then we went to Ned's and pokered till morning. Today we muled out to the corn field and geehawed until sundown. Then we suppered, and then we piped for a while. After that we staircased up to our room and bedsteaded until the clock fived."—San Francisco Argonaut.

"Darling," he said, "I have lost all my money." "How careless of you," she replied. "The next thing you know you'll be losing me."—Detroit Free Press.

What Of It.

They were playing poker in a Western town. One of the players was a stranger and was getting a nice trimming. Finally the sucker saw one of the players give himself three aces from the bottom of the pack.

The sucker turned to the man beside him and said:

"Did you see that?"

"See what?" asked the man.

"Why, that fellow dealt himself three aces from the bottom of the deck," said the sucker.

"Well, what about it?" asked the man. "It was his deal, wasn't it?"—Tit-Bits.

Opinion Molders.

Waxahachie Light: Henry Ford starts into the newspaper business with a paid up capital of $40,000,00 that ought to enable him to hold out for several years.

Yes, but even with forty million dollars at his command, Mr. Ford will have to go easy if he expects to stay in the newspaper business long enough to do his country much service. Feeding white paper into a printing press these days is mighty near like pushing dollar bills into a corn sheller. James J. Hill, the multimillionaire railroad builder, went into the newspaper business at a time when print paper was selling at about half the present price. He worried along at the loosing game a few years, then surprised everybody by locking the printing office doors and quitting cold. He didn't even try to sell the business. He was so disgusted he just quit short off. In the first place, he found the newspaper game rather too strenuous for a mere captain of industry. There was too much happening everywhere. He found also that his editorial influence reached hardly as far as he could spit out of the window. The people were strangely indifferent to his editorial voice. They are strangely indifferent to all editorial voices, but Mr. Hill did not realize it for a long time. Molding public opinion looks easy to those who have never tried it. And after Mr. Hill tried it a while he quit suddenly. It may turn out that way with Mr. Ford. He is certain to be disillusioned sooner or later. Possibly he will fall into the frame of mind of a certain "advanced thinker," who feeling that Truth had built a nest in his hair, labored with a dozen different audiences in a dozen different localities without having made any impression. Finally his money running low and his patients altogether exhausted, he cried out passionately, "Gosh darn the thickheads Wall Streets' a-bitin' them and they scratch for chiggers!"

Georgia Has 8,678 Boys in Pig Clubs.

Swine worth half a million dollars were raised by Georgia pig-club members during 1918. Four years ago there were no pig clubs in the State, but under encouragement from the College of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture, 8,678 boys in Georgia are now enrolled in these organizations. Their beneficial effect on the swine industry of the state may be judged from a summary just received by the department from its pig-club agent in Georgia. Outstanding progress is reported as follows: "The increase in final value of hogs raised by pig-club boys in 1918 over those of 1917 was more than 56 per cent. Pig club boys won 70 ribbons and $505 in prizes in the open ring at two Georgia fairs. The increase in number of pure bred hogs raised by pig-club boys in 1918 over 1917 was more than 306 per cent. The State champion was the 11-year-old son of a one horse farmer who bought his pig at an auction sale for $37.50. She is worth $300 today. Six pig-club boys in one county will start hog farms in 1919. All of them began with one small pig."

Mrs. Dan. S. Gilliland.
Last Friday night, January 24th at the Cameron Sanitarium occurred the death of Mrs. Dan S. Gilliland of Tracy. Mrs. Gilliland was a prominent woman of our county and had a host of friends in this city.

Mrs. Gilliland who was Miss Anna Hartsfield, was born in 1869. About thirty years ago she married Mr. Dan S. Gilliland and since that time they have made their home in Tracy. Four children blessed their home, two of whom preceded their mother in death, one dying in early childhood and the other, Mrs. John Davis, dying a few months ago.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. B. B. Blaylock from the Baptist church in Tracy. A special musical program was beautifully and effectively rendered. Mr. Blaylock's words were full of comfort and help. The interment took place at the Sharp cemetery the Woodmen Circle taking charge of the services at the grave.

The death of this good woman has cast a shadow over the entire community. She was loved by every one because to know her meant to love her. She was a good friend and neighbor and a strong christian character, having for many years been a member of the Baptist church. She shall be sorely missed in her home, her church and her community.

The large concourse of people who attended her funeral and the beautiful floral offerings which covered her grave were a testimonial of the love and esteem in which this good woman was held, not alone by the people of her community, but by people from all over the county. Deceased is survived by her husband, one son, Roger, of Tracy, a daughter, Mrs. Clifton Howard of Waco, two sisters and three brothers and a large number of other relatives and friends.

The Herald joins with the people of Cameron and Milam county in extending to these bereaved ones the tenderest sympathy.

With Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Head
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Head entertained last Friday evening, naming Walter Thomas and Truett Blaylock two returned sailors, as honorees.

The living room and dining room were beautiful with read hearts and other trimmings. A large heart was hung from the light in the living room and connected with the corners by festoons of red paper.

A series of games had been arranged of the evening was taken up in the ed by the hostess and every minute enjoyment of these. An Edison also made things lively with music.

Partners were secured for the refreshments by matching hearts. The table was arranged for the guests with kewpies holding the place cards. A delicious salad course was served. Under each plate a heart trimmed cap was found. These were quickly donned by the guests and added to the fun of the occasion.

Apples cut in rings, fried in a very little fat and sprinkled with brown sugar are delicious.

Sprinkle a little water over the ashes when removing from the stove to prevent their blowing about.

If a garment is stained with prune juice, soak it in kerosene before washing and the stains will come out.

R. P. JETER FINDS IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

As a positive proof that it pays to advertise in The Herald we would cite to you the case of an honorable citizen of Cameron, Mr. Roy P. Jeter of the Jeter Lumber Company, who was grievously inconvenienced by the loss of a favorite red rooster. The fowl for some unknown reason, forsook his warm roost in the Jeter hen house and sought new abodes. The deserted owner, retaining his good judgment under trying conditions, rushed to the Herald for aid. A reward was placed for the return of the cock, the ad went in the Herald. The case was a hard one. The trials and tribulations of Mr. Jeter for the immediately approaching days were indescribable. He searched by day and dreamed by night sought out more red roosters than he had ever before imagined could live in one town the size of Cameron. Had some one appropriated his priceless fowl for chicken pie? The thought was unbearable.

It was yesterday that Mr. Jeter, a happy man, informed us that the red rooster had been found. A lady living several blocks away from the Jeter home decided after reading the Herald that the chicken which had tormented her for the last several days might be the one wanted. It was. Again the red rooster is safe in the old yard.

The time to prepare for adversity is now-not tomorrow nor the next day.

CAMERON, TEXAS.

Mothers, Wives and Sisters Of Every Man In The Service

We have procured one hundred very fine cabinet photographs of General Pershing, and we invite every woman with a relative in the service to call at the bank and secure one of them, as long as they last.

We are proud of this true American soldier and the boys who we so cheerfully sent into his keeping. We thrill at their glorious deeds of daring and the valor and high courage and patriotism which hastened the end of the war and made possible our victory.

In reviewing the victories of our boys over there we are not unmindful of the force that has been back of them—the wonderful spirit of the women at home.

War has ever been a summons to service and sacrifice on the part of the women, and how nobly they have always responded to that call. Universal womanhood—shorn of the presence of their loved one—with lips that smile, while hearts are breaking, yet so valiantly sustain the spirit of the men. These loyal women at home, and the gallant soldiers, have been the real torch bearers of the nation, lighting the world through the suffering and sacrifice of war's black night, to this new morning of Liberty and Freedom. There is no tribute too great to pay to the mothers, wives and sisters of our fighting men, who have kept the flowers blooming and the home fires burning against this day of peace and that other happy day approaching when they may welcome to their arms again their loved ones from trench and camp and ship and sky. Our hearts join with yours in thankfulness for their victory and earnest well wishes for their safe and speedy return.

The courtesies and services of this bank are especially extended to the mothers, wives and sisters of our fighting men, and we shall deem it a privilege to serve and assist them in any way we can.

REASONS FOR BUILDING

F. T. Miller, Director Division of Public Works and Construction Department Issues Important Statement.

F. T. Miller, director Division of Public Works and Construction Development, Department of Labor, has issued the following, which will interest all prospective builders.

Activity of the construction industry at this time is essential to the general welfare of the country. As Secretary McAdoo recently stated in directing the supervising architect to resume public work, "the activity of the building industry will facilitate the transition of (general) industry from a war to a peace basis."

This is a question that goes beyond the interests of the construction industry. It is fundamental to our entire program of reconstruction and affects society as a whole. After all, reconstruction must be literal as well as metaphorical; the way to bring about reconstruction is to reconstruct.

Successful construction depends upon proper team-work between the employee; therefore, the work undertaken by this division falls under the activities of the Labor Department; and under those of the Information and Education Service, which already possesses a nucleus of the necessary organization and important data.

Secretary Wilson's wish is that the Nation be interested in public and private construction. This wish cannot be carried out unless the work is based on facts.

Facts when verified and surveys when completed will be made known to the public and to the members of this great composite industry. This is a service of information and education.

The co-operation of other governmental departments the state councils of defense, etc., is assured. Evidently time can be saved and correctness of viewpoint gained by such co-operation.

The following telegram from the Secretary of War, approved by the Secretary of Labor, was sent out under date of December 21, 1918, to 48 State Councils of National Defense and 4,000 County Councils of National Defense:

"Re-employment of discharged soldiers, sailors and war workers released from war industries is one of the most important tasks now before the country. We strongly urge that in sections where there is a surplus of labor all public improvement be advanced in order to absorb labor. We ask that you use all influence with state, county and municipal authorities to this end. Preliminary steps should be taken immediately in order that necessary authority may be secured in time for operations upon opening of construction season. (Signed) Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War and Chairman of Council of National Defense."

"Approved by: Secretary of Labor."

The construction industry—a composite industry—is one of the Nation's largest. Its successful functioning is most necessary for the public welfare. It now needs and merits governmental support more than any other great industry, for the reason that it has necessarily been embargoed by the government during the war.

The British government, whose precedent in curtailing the building industry during the war was followed by our own government, has already taken forethought in this matter.

Deferred building construction is one of the first portions of our war debt which must be met, for it provides facilities for paying the remaining portion of the war debt and also decreases the cost of living.

It is an economic waste to allow labor and materials to remain even temporarily in idleness, when they may in the meantime be put into wealth and tax-producing structures.

Money is not consumed in building operations, but passes from one hand to another, and still remains in the national banking system, yet leaves on its way a permanent evidence of wealth—such a water-power, a highway, a railroad, a sewer or other necessities to the earning power of society.

A thrifty farmer reduces his luxuries in order to improve his land and his buildings; a thrifty Nation keeps up its construction program.

Public credit is ample for all public works. The money used circulates through the state ten times in the twelve months and largely remains in the state, while the structure endures for the benefit of society.

Since the beginning of the European war, construction has decreased. There, is therefore, an accumulated need for building. The shortage of construction is indicated by high rents.

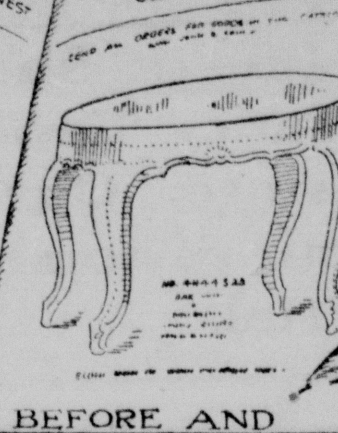

The increased cost of building materials is only about half that of other commodities.

The increased cost of building ma-

Are you preparing for next winter? Are you going to wait, wait, wait and buy high-priced feed, the same as you are this winter? Think of this! prepare yourself. Cotton might be six cents next year. Raise feed for your stock, prepare to live at home. If you have fat cows, hogs, sheep and chickens you are independent. You can sell your cotton then at 6 or 20 cents—it is just the same; it is all profit. Make your living at home; have your cotton a side line, then you will change your bank account from red to black, from a note to a deposit slip. Now, this can be done with help of a Silo. The Indiana Silo Company furnishes you a road to prosperity; they have the low price and easy terms, so any one can own a Silo.

Investments in building has always been considered the safest investment for the individual and his dependents.

The country is probably a full year behind in its civil construction program, amounting to at least three billion dollars. This amount must be caught up and normal building continued; a condition of permanently arrested development of the country is inconceivable.

At a time of quiet in the industry, the far-sighted who have need for building will naturally receive better service than when the rush comes on.

There is a growing understanding between the building employer and the employee of their co-operative relationship, and together they have every incentive for rendering the public efficient service.

It remains for this division to obtain a variety of data in addition to those which it already has, in order, if possible, to point out what kinds of projects can be most prudently undertaken in the various sections of the country.

Co-operation of the architectural and engineering professions, of the practical contractors, and of the two hundred-odd National Associations of manufacturers, etc., in the practical application of these facts, may be assumed as assured.

Age No Draw Back to Service

"There is no such thing as a retired patriot." One is never too old to render some service to one's country."

This sentiment of Mrs. Richard Flower, ninety-four years old, has impelled her to become one of the leading Red Cross workers of New Orleans. Since the declaration of war she has knitted a dozen sweaters, eight pairs of socks and many helmets muffers and washcloths. The Red Cross authorities highly praise Mrs.

Power's industry and say that her example has been invaluable. She not only works every day at the production of the Red Cross articles, but also keeps abreast of the war news in the papers. She has assisted in several entertainments for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Flower has reared a family of five sons and three daughters. One of her sons was the late Mayor Flower of New Orleans.

Oh, splash! What can the peace conference do without those Russian bolsheviks there to help things along? Latest indications are that the Soviet government is hostile to the plan of the meeting and will not honor it with a bolshevik representative.

"I'm not scared of the Kaiser, but I don't want to meet old St. Peter," groaned the wounded soldier to his nurse. Not necessarily the fear of death, friends, but just the natural desire of every normal human being to want to live in this old world a little longer.

Every noted philosopher and statesman of the different countries in Europe is making a wonderfully well-phrased argument to show that his nation should be given a large slice of adjoining territory in order to bring about that "natural national boundary line."

"Yes sirs," continued the little more than a rookie who had been in the supply department for a very short time, "I have been across the Atlantic, saw a sure-enough submarine, and actually heard the fire of the big guns on the battlefields of France." Among the listeners gathered around the narrator of these well advertised experiences was a doughboy who had spent six months in the trenches, had gone "over the top" seven times, had been gassed once, and seriously wounded twice in hand-to-hand combat with the Hun. He said never a word.

We notice that the Temple Daily Telegram has started a column headed "The Central Press" in which it publishes clippings from different daily and weekly papers over this section of the state. The idea is a good one. The Telegram is one of Texas' most popular dailies and never "overlooks a bet." The column is ably presided over by Andrew McBeath.

Up east they say that Texas is so full of oil fields that the railroad authorities have lately issued complaints about the derricks infringing on the right-of-ways, the result of which passengers are drowned by the big gushers being brought into existence every few minutes; and further that orders have been issued to keep all Pullman windows closed while passing through the Lone Star State

The little woman stepped upon the I. & G. N. train and, followed by her mother, started down the aisle. "Hello nurse," came a thunderous yell as six feet of muscle and brawn sprang into the center of the car and launched forth on a vigorous wringing of the former Red Cross nurse's arm. "Don't you know me? Why, I am Tex, the sick rookie you put new life in back there in Mud Camp." She remembered him. Then the big soldier met the little nurse's mother, and the nurse met the big soldiers' two sisters. They all sat down together and there was talking, and laughing, and talking, as the Red Cross nurse and the formerly sick soldier reviewed old times. This is the only one of thousands of similar incidents taking place over the land that show the love of the soldier for the Red Cross nurse. Who can blame the doughboy for idolizing the one who braved dangers to act the part of a mother for him even to the battlefields of death? She will live immortal in the sights of those in uniform who have had the occasion and opportunity to know her.

Col. Christopher C. Slaughter, age 82, the first white child to be born in Texas after it became the Republic of Texas, died in Dallas last Saturday after a long period of poor health. Colonel Slaughter was a pioneer cattleman of this state, Indian fighter, banker and philanthropist. He leaves behind the record of a useful career, having been one of the organizers of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association and in 1885 its president, active in several banking enterprises over the state and at the time of his death vice president of the American Exchange National Bank in Dallas, which position he had held since 1884. At the time of his death Colonel Slaughter was said to be the wealthiest cattle man in Texas, and his property included 500,000 acres of land in addition to business property over the state. He was a large contributor to the Baptist churches of Texas. The father of the deceased was George Webb Slaughter, the man who carried the order from General Sam Houston to the men holding the Alamo to vacate the fort. He fought in the Battle of the Alamo. Colonel Slaughter was himself a captain in the Confederate army during the civil war and in the Texas Rangers before of the conflict between the states.

A bill that deserves the best consideration of every conscientious member of the state legislature is one introduced last Friday in the Senate limiting the use of money in the elections of candidates for state and county offices. In the past the amount of money lavishly expended on some candidates has placed other less fortunate ones at a great disadvantage. This very condition, which should have been remedied long ago, has been a grave menace to our state's political welfare, for there have been repeated cases where a man best suited for an office in the state or county has been defeated solely because he could not stand up to the expenses afforded by the rivaling candidate. The bill as introduced in the senate last week specifies the amounts to be allowed as campaign expense money for different offices from United States Senator and governor ($10,000) to county officers, who are allowed only $300 provided the population of the county in which the candidates run is less than $30,000 population. The maximum that may be expended by a member of the House of Representatives is placed at $200. The details should be determined after careful investigation and comparison. The general idea is a good one.

Women, It's Up To You To Pay That Poll Tax.

Women of Cameron and Milam county, you have this day and one more in which to pay your poll tax. If you do not you are losing an excellent chance to exercise your right as a citizen. Listen to this approximate statement of what you have done up to Wednesday noon.

Women paid in Cameron—15.
Women who should pay—700.
Women paid in Milam County—100.
Women who should pay—6000.

These figures are nothing short of deplorable, a deep reflection on the women of this county. With two days left it is up to you to erase this record and show the right color, that of vigilant, free voting American citizens. If you do not get that poll tax receipt and stand ready for what you think is right in the elections that are liable to come up at any time during the year, you acknowledge that you are not fitted to be a citizen, that you deserve to be ignored politically, and that you should sit back in the corner and obey while the men of the nation do the real thinking and run the government.

The men are paying as usual, according to reports from the tax collectors' offices. They will continue to pay in the future because they realize the true value of citizenship and the responsibility involved in it. Their forefathers fought and shed their life blood for the ballot. They will give their lives in battle against any attempt to take it away from them.

You are getting that same privilege, not with bloodshed and hardships, but merely because the present law makers place utmost confidence in you. The early passage of legislation allowing women to vote in all elections, general as well as primary and local, is almost certain. In that case you will undoubtedly have the opportunity to vote on prohibition later in the year. True, this is not an election year, but so uncertain are elections that you cannot tell what will come up this year for decision at the polls. The big joy of being a qualified voter is that you stand ready to meet anything that might appear, scratching it or supporting it according to your conscience. This is the way a true citizen protects his state against base legislation. If all the well meaning citizens should neglect to pay their poll taxes until something certain confronted them for ballot, they would allow the government to sink to a state of hopeless corruption.

Women of Milam County! Can you fill the bill of true citizens? You can, but you will have to do some heroic work. You have until Friday night at midnight to round up the voters of this county. Women of Cameron, you will do yourselves credit by starting the drive. Canvass the city, keep the telephone humming, let the leading ladies of every locality in the county awake their slumbering sisters and get them to the tax collectors' office with $1.75 not one minute later than Friday midnight. The women of Cameron and Rockdale will have to pay the city tax of one dollar additional, total $2.75. Pay the county and state tax to County Tax Collector W. A. Bonds in his office on the court house yard. Cameron women will also see City Tax Collector Dan Tyson at his office for the city tax.

At Pool of Bethesda

An English reserivist, who was living near Sudbury, Ont; before the war writes to his old neighbors from the Pool of Bethesda, Palestine: I tasted the water not too clean! and in order to do it had to descend lots of steps as the well is deep down in the ground. At the entrance one may, if one wishes, read in 77 different languages the account of the healing described in the fifth chapter of Johnsa quiet sufficient choice, one would imagine, but "Taffy" thought differently, and not finding his mother tongue represented, promptly wrote it all out in Welsh from his own testament. So now there are now 78 different versions for visitors to choose from."

Planting Seed.
I have about 20 tons of seed that I have kept for planting which are from cotton raised from Storey Myrick Mebane seed that were direct from Lockhart in 1917, and gin records show a lint per cent from them of from 35% to 40 9-10 per cent. These seed were saved pure as we used every care in handling them at the gins, the rolls being run out each time before these seed were caught. I will sell these seed while they last at $2.25 per bushel. R. L. Batte, Cameron, Texas.

High School Quintet Loses

On Friday afternoon, January 24, the Cam-Hi basketball team lost to Ben Arnold in a hard fought game. The whole Cam-Hi student body came out in full force, in support of their team. The game started and the first minute of play a foul was called on Cameron. Ben Arnold threw a goal, Cameron then threw a field goal. Ben Arnold then came back with a series of field goals, thus taking a big lead. The visitors kept making field goals and increasing their lead, now and then Cameron making a score.

The visitors made several more field goals at the first part of the second half. The Cam-Hi did not pick up until the last when Wiley and Burke showed some of their old time stuff, but as Ben Arnold had such a lead, time did not permit our forwards to match the final score which was 24 for Ben Arnold and 20 for the Cam-Hi.

This week the Cam-Hi Military Company is at work again, and we are expecting to put some of our drill into practice at an early date. "Capt." Crawford is expecting to take the company on a military hike next Friday night, and plans are now being perfected whereby this expedition will resemble a real marching army. Camp fires and camp cooking will be the issues of the night, but guards will be stationed around the camp, also around the provisions. The lieutenants, sergeants and corporals to be appointed will have charge of enforcing the strict military laws which are to be formulated for this particular "punitive" expedition.

The Freshman Ambition.

Some Freshmen think just because they are in high school, that they know even more than the seniors. The freshmen are not to be blamed for this, because when they were in the grades they were harrassed until they wished that there would be no more school, but when they got into high school, with all its privileges the pleasure of attending school came back to them.

The first month every thing runs smoothly, then the freshmen get it into their heads that to be a sophomore would be better because sophomores have an easier time.

This ambition continues for a month or so, then the Freshmen decide it would be better to be a Junior because the Juniors have more privileges than the sophomores. That ambition continues for two months then the freshmen get it into their heads that to be a Senior is better than all, because they have more privileges than any class in high school. When the freshmen are promoted to the Senior class they want to remain seniors always, because they have found that after one graduates he has no privileges at all.

Standard Day.

Thursday, January 23, as announced before, was set aside as standard day. Although visitors were few the day was a success for the pupils made it so. Visitors would have been welcomed but, as they were not here, the pupils assumed judgment to say that there had at least been a marked improvement made. Supt. Reed of the Rosebud High School was the only visiting teacher, we hope that he profited by his visit, and that we were able to show him conditions that were up to the standard.

There were also quite a number of patrons who visited the grades. They expressed themselves as being well pleased both with recitations, conduct and play ground activity. We hope that this work was of such a grade that they will come again any time. The faculty and student body are always glad to see visitors. The inspectors are coming later and we hope that we shall have our work as near the standard as we did on Standard Day.

Talks On The Peace Conference

We announced in last week's news that a senior speaker would spend ten minutes in the study hall each day discussing the workings of the peace conference. These talks are instructive and should be given the best of attention by every one. Mr. Raymond C. Thompson gave the first of these instructive talks, in which he summed up the work that had been done and the plans for the future. Next day Homer Peel favored us by discussing the work of the conference on the previous day. Standard Day,

L. J. Epperson gave the entire work that had been done by the peace delegates. Miss Louise Green was appointed for Friday but her speech was postponed until Monday. Thus far the talks have been excellent and we are sure that they will continue so in the future.

Senior Psalm.

1. The faculty is our Shepherd, we shall not want.
2. It maketh us study everything. It giveth us plenty to do.
3. It restoreth our mentality. It leadeth us into "deep waters" for its ideals are high.
4. Yea, tho we go thru the study hall at noon we dare not be too noisy, lest N. H. hearth us for its ears are sharp and we are afraid of it.
5. When we go home we are at ease for no teacher is there; we need not fear them then.
6. But when we goeth back to school, O, my! surely rules and restrictions shall follow us all the days of our life and we shall dwell in misery and woe forever. L. M. K.

German Program

The Senior German Class of the Cameron High School gave a program in German last Thursday. After the assignments were made by Miss Rose, Katy McCall took charge and called off the program which was as follows: "Germelshausen, Ein Erzählung"—August Knipp.

"Tannenbaum Ein Lied"—By the class.

"Der Rattenjanger von Hamlin"—Louise Green.

"Die Lorelei Felsen"—Harriet Henderson.

"Stille Nache, Ein Lied"—By Class.
"Sprichuort"—Irene Cheeves, Owen Bacon, Mae Kennon, Vernon Roberts, Louise Botla, Irene Williams, Lidia Matula, Viola Marek, Raymond Ethridge.

7. "Eine Geditt"—James Coleman.

Then followed a discussion in German of Gerstackeis "Germelshausen."

The following visitors were present to enjoy the talent and ability exhibited by the class:

Dr. A. S. Epperson, Mrs. Lula Gillis, Mrs. Pope, Mrs. Jeff Hefley and Supt. L. H. Kidd of Cameron and Supt. Reid of Rosebud.

New Piano For High School.

Cam-Hi has needed a new piano for a long time. This is shown plainly when one of the literary societies tries to have a chapel program. At the last meeting of the Mothers Club the idea of getting a new one was discussed and they decided to raise the money for one. It is true then that we are able to have a new piano and we, the students of the Cameron High School wish to thank them. The school intends to buy the piano from our local dealer.

Good English Week.

As one of the moets of work toward being a standard school, Cameron High School observed a standard week in English last week. The purpose was to arouse the enthusiasm of the students in advancing class spirit by using better English.

The method used was one of the features of the week. All the teachers cooperated in aiding this movement and their influence was greatly felt. Each day certain errors were written on the boards in the class rooms and were explained and discussed. If any doubt arose, the rules pertaining to these errors were looked up and learned. The English teacher used the plan of giving points for the students corrections in not only their own speech but also in the speech of outsiders. Many points were given before the week was over. The students showed their ability in art by ten cartoons which were drawn for the benefit of good English. One typical cartoon was of good English in the form Old Dutch Cleanser, chasing out three common errors: cute, awful and nice. Another was of a soldier expressing patriotism in speech for every month except May until the school term is out a good English week will be observed.

Does Cam-Hi Need a Business Course?

She had deposited five dollars and was given a check book. She entered the bank later to cash a check.

"But my dear lady, you have overdrawn your account by about ninety-five dollars," said the cashier.

"You are mistaken," said the Cam-Hi girl, "I have not," holding up the check book, "see I have two more checks."

Cam-Hi Orchestra.

The orchestra is rapidly being formed into really a first class organization. The director is working all hours trying to get ready for a special sacred concert to be given some Sunday afternoon in the near future. There are about twenty-five members and all are working hard to make the Cam-Hi Orchestra one of the best in the state. This is not a wild boast, for according to the leader, we have several members who have remarkable musical talent; and with regular and systematic practice we hope to prove that we can render first class music both standard and popular, in a way that will bring only favorable criticism.

Heard on The Military Field.

Lt. Denson—"Forward march, company halt, squads left, by the left flank, company halt."

Pvt. Kennon—"Excuse me for the rest of the drill Lt. Denson."

Lt. Denson—"What for?"

Pvt. Kennon—"Bedad if I work for a man that changes his mind so often."

At the time of going to press, reports are being rumored that the Junior boys are about to challenge the Seniors for a basketball game. The Seniors are game and will probably accept, and make the Juniors regret their boldness.

GOOD ROADS IN PROFITABLE FARMING

Three necessary factors in successful farming are:

1. The greatest possible yields at the lowest possible cost.

2. The opportunity to sell at a profit over cost of production.

3. Roads in such condition and such railway facilities as will enable the grower to place his product in the hands of the buyer at a reasonable hauling cost.

If any one of these factors is lacking, or is even poor, farming will decline, trade languish, and social, educational and religious life will be restricted. Colonel Henry Exall used to say that no man is so far from market as the farmer who has nothing to sell, and all farmers have experienced the disappointment of selling their products under the cost of production. A community with bad roads does not realize the handicap it suffers, because it has never known what good roads mean, and for this reason farmers often stand in their own light in the matter of road improvement. Everybody likes good roads, but no one likes the added tax required to build and keep them in good condition.

The total value of the farm lands of the United States in 1900 was thirteen billion dollars; in 1910, twenty-eight and a half billion dollars. No more food was grown on the average acre in those ten years but there were fifteen million more people to be fed in 1910 than in 1900; thus the increase in total value of $936.86 for each person added to the population, or the doubling of the acre's value, has come from the greater use that must be made of the land. Greater use of the land can only be made by getting its products more quickly and easily to the shipping point.

It has been said that it costs seven-eighths of a cent to move a ton of freight over one mile of railroad; twenty-three cents to haul it one mile over the average dirt road in the United States, and forty-three cents to haul it one mile over the average dirt road in Texas. These figures are several years old and therefore do not closely approximate the haulage cost at this time, but they serve to show where the greatest improvement can be made, and where a good part of the fifteen and a half billion dollars came from that were added in ten years to the value of land that grew no more foodstuffs in 1910 than in 1900.

Texas needs good roads.

DRAGGING TO IMPROVE ROADS MUST BE PERSISTENT

The main trouble about dragging roads is that we do not drag them enough. What's everybody's business is nobody's business. A rain comes and the road is cut. We drag it and improve it wonderfully, and the community is enthusiastic over good roads. Another rains comes and we drag again, but this time we are not so eager. Another rain comes and, somebody says, What's the use? so the road is left to remain in chuck holes and ditches. Probably we have no more rain for several weeks, and we bounce over roads that a days work would have smoothed says the Progressive Farmer.

Persistent dragging will keep any ordinary road in good shape, provided the road has been put in good condition with grader to begin with. Dragging must be done after every rain, if good results are expected. The ground should be dry, but not so dry that it will tear up in clods. Continually dragging gradually elevates the center of the road, and keeps the surface smooth so that the water runs off. Usually two rounds with a drag is all that is necessary.

A home made drag that does just as good as the steel drag, can be made very easily. This drag is made box fashion, out of 2x12 plank. These plank are bolted together securely with long bolts, about 18 inches apart. The bottom is left open, but the top is boxed over with plank stout enough to bear the weight of two or three men. The front runner is faced with a piece of steel to protect the plank and to cut the dirt smoothly. The driver rides on the drag, and can change its position as desired by shifting his weight from one end to the other. —Waxahachie Light.

FORD STATION IN CAMERON SUPERIOR

Finished Fords Can Be Built From Complete Supply Department of Chambers-Hefley Co.

Did you know that Cameron has an
up to date A-1 Ford Service Station,
one that is equal to that of any town
of its size in this section of the country? That place is claimed to be the Chambers-Hefley Company.

Perhaps few Ford stations have equipment so complete that they can build complete running Fords out of their stock of supplies. Chambers-Hefley claims to be able to do that very thing. While the contract with the Ford producers requires an ordinarily complete stock Cameron's concern is declared to have a stock
fully twice as large.

The mechanical department has all kinds of special tools that are designed especially for the Henry Ford car.
Some look like jumping jacks, other similar to crabs, and each has some eccentric kind of a name that the ordinary man would get weak minded trying to remember, but they nevertheless do the work that Mr. Ford intended them to do. That is the reason that this establishment claims to be in a position to fix a "tin Lizzie"
just twice as quick as the place without the special accommodations. That is also the reason that the expert Ford mechanics of this place can overhaul a Ford motor and at the end of the job pull themselves up to full height and guarantee it for ninety days, the same as the guarantee one gets with a new Ford motor. This department is superintended by C. E.
Wishard. In the battery department is the largest charging generator of any neighboring localities.

The Chambers-Hefley concern is run completely according to the Ford system, designated by the Ford people for most efficient service in shop,
mechanical part, and even in the methods of keeping books. The Ford agency was secured by this firm in 1915 and has made rapid progress since that time. Recently a new and modern building was erected and especially designed to handle the car trade in a most efficient manner. The cars are doctored on the second floor,
to which they are raised by an elevator. The building has a storage capacity of 75 cars.

Mrs. R. A. Triggs Entertains

On last Saturday afternoon at 2
o'clock Mrs. R. A. Triggs entertained with a luncheon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Geo. A. Thomas, whose birthday it was.

Places were laid at the table for fourteen ladies who had been special friends of Mrs. Thomas during her residence in Cameron. The table was beautifully decorated with crystal, silver and dainty nappery. Red, the chosen color found expression in decorations and menu. The centerpiece was a pot of cyclamen in full bloom.
The lights were shaded with red and red birds were saucily perched on comportes holding nuts and rinds
placed at intervals on the table.

An excellent luncheon was served in the following courses:
Oyster Cocktail Crackers,
Turkey, dressing, peas, carrots
Hot rolls, Pimento salad Crackers
Ice cream Fruit Cake
Coffee Cheese balls

The table talk turned around old times in Cameron and many a rare anecdote was told and enjoyed by the ladies. Between each course, Mrs. T.
S. Henderson, the toast-mistress of the occasion, in her imitable and charming way introduced a toast.

During the afternoon the following clever toasts were given:

Old Lang Syne—Mrs. R. H. Mc-Intosh.

The Tie That Binds—Mrs. W. H.
Triggs.

Neighbors—Mrs. A. N. Green.
Many happy returns of the Day—
Miss Ada Henderson.

Those who enjoyed this delightful afternoon were: Mesdames Geo. A.
Thomas, S. M. Burns, Sr., A. N. Green
T. S. Henderson, Wm. Henderson, T.
A. Pope, Jeff T. Hefley, D. Monroe,
Wm. Jeter, W. H. Triggs, H. F. Smith,

WHY YOU SHOULD INVEST IN THE

Gilt Edge Oil And Gas Company

THIS COMPANY OFFERS A BONA FIDE OPPORTUNITY FOR YOU TO PARTICIPATE IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF A REAL OIL PROPERTY.

We have a lease on Twenty-Five acres southeast of Burkburnett, where all the trend in development at present is taking place.

It is a section where more than twenty deep tests have been started, any one of which getting the 1,000-barrel sand at the 1,700-foot level will double the value of our stock. In the past few days the value of leases in this section has increased 500 per cent.

Our property is on the Kemp & Kell subdivision of the Thornberry survey, six and one-half miles southeast of Burkburnett, on the southern slope of the Petrolia-Burkburnett field.

In addition to our chances for the big gusher oil, we KNOW that we have two sand strata, one of which produces 10 to 15 barrels at 410 feet, and another producing 50 or more barrels at 600 feet. On Jan. 20, in a well 1 1/2 miles southeast of us, a new sand was discovered at 775 feet, producing 100 barrels or more per day.

THERE IS NO DOUBT AT ALL

that our property will produce paying oil, as it is in proven territory, and we have a good chance for 1,000 barrel gushers, which, if found, will make our stock worth 500 per cent above par.

We guarantee in our trust agreement to put one well down to a depth of 2,000 feet.

OUR CAPITAL IS ONLY $50,000

The Company is a registered trust association and its officers are WELL KNOWN TEXANS, who have not only a high standing as business men, but have lived in the oil territory for years and know how to operate an oil company successfully.

OFFICERS OF THE COMPANY

S. B. Cook, Henrietta, Texas, President.

Percy Webb, Wichita Falls, Texas, Vice President.

N. G. Davis, Bowie, Texas, Secretary and Treasurer.

Mr. Cook is in the cattle business; he has done business in Archer City and Henrietta for twenty-six years.

Mr. Webb is a well known business man who has had a large experience in oil development.

Mr. Davis is in the ginning and cotton business. He has owned gins at Bowie and Petrolia for the past eighteen years.

OUR PRESENT STOCKHOLDERS ARE MOSTLY FARMERS AND COWMEN

OPERATIONS WILL BEGIN AT ONCE

Just as soon as enough stock is sold, active operations will be begun GETTING OIL.

THE PAR VALUE OF SHARES IS $50.00

They are sold at present at the par value, but there are so many deep tests going down in our vicinity, any one of which, any day, may strike the big gusher sand, that we do not guarantee to continue selling at par.

ON A CAPITALIZATION OF $50,000.00

One 50 barrel well will produce $46,500 per annum, or 90 per cent.
One 100-barrel well will produce $93,000 per annum, or 180 per cent.
One 1000-barrel well will produce $930,000 per annum, or 1800 per cent.

We have ample space on our 25 acres for TEN WELLS.

The Pipe Lines between Burkburnett and Wichita Falls run through our property.

The Fowler Farm Company, organized by a cattle feeder of Burkburnett, with a capital of only $12,000, now has property valued at $3,000,000, and a daily income of more than the total capital stock.

There are numerous small companies (wild-catters, they are called) which are paying their stockholders from 25, 50 to 100 per cent, PER MONTH.

Our office is at 304 Reynolds Building. Phone Lamar 3237.

WHEN GENERAL FOCH TOOK FULL COMMAND

"Under Four Flags" Tells Thrilling
Story of Marvelous Military Achievement Under a Unified Command.

Beginning with the great Allied conference at Versailles, which ended with the selection of General Foch as the generalissimo of the Allied armies, immediately after the Great German drive in March, "Under Four Flags,"
the third United States official war
feature picture issued by the Division of Films of the Committee on Public Information, carries the story through the dark days of the Hun advance to the turning tide of the war on the Marne at Chateau Thierry, and then
into the glorious days leading up to the German admission of a need for peace. It is the most comprehensive motion picture of the war that has been issued, for the reason that it is not confined to the activities of the American army, but also visualizes the splendid heroism of our allies in the war.

"Under Four Flags" which is being distributed by the World Film Corporation, will be seen at the Wonderland Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 4 and 5, and it will give those who see it a new view of the magnitude and tremendous scope of the war.

NATION WIDE PROHIBITION ON JANUARY 16, 1920

Washington, Jan. 29.—Ratification of the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution, effective January 16, 1920, was proclaimed today in a proclamation signed at 11:20 a. m. at the state department by Acting Secretary Polk.

This ends the fight that has been raging over the liquor question for years. Finally, by securing the ratification of the necessary two thirds of the states to make the federal amendment effective, prohibition has been officially upheld and will be in effect throughout the boundaries of this country within the next year. Latest reports tell that not only the necessary two thirds of the states have ratified, thirty-six, but that the forty-fourth state has declared itself in favor of the amendment. Since the beginning of the world war liquor has lost strength steadily. This marks the culmination of the struggle in this country.

Bill Marek and Steve Mecal have opened a new market in the Fritz Fahrendorf building.

GIVE BACK THE JOBS.

During last summer when men were being lifted out of their daily occupations by the draft and landed in the army there was general acclaim of the proposition that every soldier upon his return from the war should have his job back if he wanted it.

The boys are coming back now and they are needing those jobs. In many cases women and girls have supplanted men, often at lower wages; in others men not amenable to the draft are filling soldiers' jobs.

In some quarters there is a disposition to let present matters stand; no room is to be made for the soldier boy who fought it out over there or who was prepared to do so upon call.

This is not right and should not be permitted to continue; every soldier boy who left employment to enter the army should be taken back to fill the place he vacated unless some insurmountable obstacle prevents.

Now that the war is over people should not forget these boys who stood ready to sacrifice their all that the stay at homes might have three squares each day, a good bed to sleep in at night, warm clothes

all the creature comforts and amusements galore.

The plan to slow up demobilization should not be approved; the men are anxious to get home, having done their bit in army life and the require them now to remain the army at $30 per month because if discharged they would take the places of non-combatants who are picking off the high salaries is not just.

The high salaries and the good things in life should be the soldier's. It is to be hoped that no civilians will suffer, but if some one has to lose or be inconvenienced let it be those who warmed the chairs at home rather than the man who answered his country's call.

At The Peace Table.

Who shall sit at the table then, when the terms of peace are made—The wisest men of the trouble lands in their silver and gold brocade? Yes, they shall gather in solemn state to speak for each living race, But who shall speak for the unseen dead that shall come to the council place?

Though you see them not and you hear them not, they shall sit at the table, too; They shall throng the room where the peace is made and know what it is you do; The innocent dead from the sea shall rise to stand at the wise man's side,

And over his shoulder a boy shall look—a boy that they crucified.

You may guard the doors of that council hall with barriers strong and stout, But the dead unbidden shall enter there, and never you'll shut them out.

And the man that died in the open boat, and the babes that suffered worse, Shall sit at the table when peace is made by the side of a martyred nurse.

You may see them not, but they'll all be there; when they speak you may fail to hear;

You may think that you're making your pacts alone, but their spirit will hover near;

And whatever the terms of the peace you make with the tyrant whose hands are red, You must please not only the living here, but must satisfy your dead. —From "Over There," by Edgar A. Guest.

Story Telling For Patriotism.

Patriotism Through Conservation

One of the greatest assets of the good impulses born of the present struggle is the ideal of thrift and conservation that it is bringing to the children of American homes. Without feeling the pinch of actual want, they are learning the useful game of making the best and the most of things. New values are being discovered, economy is no longer looked down upon, but is raised to the level of an art, and simple living is going to make healthier bodies and stronger minds for the children who will be the citizens of tomorrow's freedom.

Help the children, through a story, to work out a plan of conservation that will fit their own lives. What, on his own plane can a little child do without, save, or put to a wider use in our crisis of today? The story of "The Birthday Cake" suggests food economy, and after the children have heard it, they may make their own application of the lesson in other home sacrifice.

What Happened to the Birthday Cake.

"It will need four eggs and a cup of sugar and some milk and some flour," mother said, as she went to the pantry to get the yellow mixing bowl and the sifter to make Barbara's birthday cake.

"It needs sugar, too, for the frosting, and please make very thick frosting, mother dear," Barbara begged. She was standing beside the kitchen table, watching for she was going to be 6 years old in just a few days. It was to be her birthday cake, rich and sweet, and shining on the supper table with six pink, lighted candles.

"I am afraid that the cake and the frosting together will use up all our sugar," mother said as she came back. "I wonder," she went on, with just a little bit of worry in her voice, "if we could manage with two eggs instead of four. Eggs cost so much now."

"Well, we have to make a birthday cake, don't we mother, because I always cut it and share it?" Barbara said. Mother looked down in Barbara's kind little face and she thought a moment too. That was the wonderful part about mother and Barbara, they so often thought the same things. Then they said something to each other laughed, and hugged each other, and mother put away the big yellow mixing bowl and flour sifter.

The next day was Barbara's birthday and two people who didn't have birthdays had surprises.

Timothy, whose mother did the washing, had been very ill for a long time. He was getting better, and could sit up in the big rocking chair, all wrapped up in a quilt, and try to smile out through the window when Barbara passed. Barbara stopped at Timothy's door on the morning of her birthday. She had a basket on her arm. She took from it a bottle of creamery milk and a bag that held four white eggs.

"Here is a part of my birthday cake for you, Timothy," Barbara said. "It will make you get well faster."

Granny Blake was just putting her tea kettle on her stove when she heard a knock at the door of her little house. When she opened it she saw Barbara who loved Granny Blake so much. No one could make such nice rag dolls as Granny, and she was always cheerful and smiling, even when she had hardly enough coals to make her kettle boil.

Barbara still carried her basket, and she took a package of sugar and a freshly baked loaf of wheat bread out of it.

Then Barbara went home almost as happy as if she had eaten a large piece of frosted birthday cake. But when the day was almost over and it grew dark, Barbara began to wish that she could see the six pink lighted candles shining for her birthday. She went slowly in to supper, thinking of them. And oh, what a surprise she found there!

In a rosy circle in the middle of the table shone six pink, lighted candles set in six pink rosebud holders. In the center of this birthday circle of lights was a bowl that held six beautiful pink roses from the garden and beside Barbara's plate was a parcel wrapped in pink tissue paper. When Barbara blew out the candles and opened the parcel she found a pink hair ribbon for a birthday present.

"What a beautiful birthday this has been, mother," said Barbara, "without a birthday cake!"

All three brands sealed in air-tight packages. Easy to find—it is on sale everywhere.

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD SHE DECLARES

"I Wouldn't Take Five Hundred Dollars for the Good Five Bottles of Tanlac Did Me." Says Mrs. Hunt.

"I wouldn't take five hundred dollars for the good that five bottles of Tanlac have done me, and I just think it is worth its weight in gold," said Mrs. Nannie Hunt, 6019 New York Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee.

"I was told repeatedly that my nervousness could not be cured and it made me so despondent that I hardly knew what to do. Even the noise of the street cars passing would upset me so that I would shake like a leaf. My heart fluttered and palpitated and many a time I have had fainting spells and fallen to the floor. My stomach was so torn up that I couldn't even digest an egg, and this had gone on for five years until I was on the verge of nervous prostration.

"A friend of mine who knew that my case had been given up as hopeless made me a present of three bottles of Tanlac, and it proved to be a priceless gift. I have taken five bottles altogether and have gained eleven pounds in weight and haven't had a nervous spell since last Christmas. I can eat anything I want and am building up every day. I just can't say too much in praising Tanlac.

An Ancient Fellowship.

And the chief captain said: "With a great price obtained I this freedom" And Paul said: "But I was free born." They were talking, back there in the time recorded in Acts, of Roman citizenship. For more than two thousand years that honor has been prized. President Wilson thus enters, when honored as "A Citizen of Rome," a fellowship as ancient and historic as any publicity conferred by mankind.

CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 1919

NUMBER XXXIX

Commander.

Sergeant True Loftin, Company H, 360th Infantry, 90th Division has been cited by the commander of his division, Major General Henry T. Allen, for "extraordinary coolness and courage." The young hero was born and raised in Milam County, the son of W. O. Loftin of Buckholts, received this high tribute in the commendations of the commanding officer of the 90th to those under his command. Several officers and men were cited.

To receive recognition from the divisional commander requires unusual display of heroic qualities on the battlefield. This was what Loftin did. The following are the words of the major general with references to Sergeant True Loftin:

"While conducting his platoon through terrific enemy barrage, Sergeant Loftin was wounded in the leg by a shell fragment. He refused to go to the rear, but continued to lead his platoon into position, thereby setting an example of extraordinary coolness and courage to the remainder of the command."

The incident above referred to was noted as taking place near Feyen-Hay September 22, 1918, in the famous St. Mihiel drive in which the 90th was involved. An order was issued shortly before the armistice was signed for a special parade and recognition by ceremonies of the men who had exhibited such heroic qualities.

True Loftin was living in Buckholts before being called as one of the first seventeen in the first draft for Milam County on September 5, 1917. He received his training at Camp Travis and went across with the 90th division to fight.

The grandfather of the young Milam county hero was a fighter in the Civil War with the South in the 60's. At the present time Sergeant Loftin is again with his division which is a part of the army of occupation in France.

In addressing the officers and men of the 90th Major General Allen, introductory to the special mentions in which Loftin was included, said, "Your superb comportment everywhere in France, as well as your unsurpassed battle exploits, have won for you a designation in the army of occupation. Your wonderful fighting ability and your superior manhood have won for you a place in my heart that will remain with me for all time."

CORPORAL TOM JETER BACK FROM FRANCE

Corporal Tom Jeter is back home after a few months in France as a member of the American Expeditionary Forces.

Tom trained for the service in the training school at A. & M. College and later at Camp Pike, Ark. He did not see any actual fighting as he reached France not long before the signing of the armistice, but he was there if he were needed.

He landed at New Port News about two weeks ago and went from there to Camp Stewart and later to Camp Travis. He reached Cameron Monday night and left immediately for Jones Prairie where Mrs. Jeter is teaching.

An enthusiastic meeting of the directors of the Cameron Commercial Club was held Friday night with a record attendance.

Chairman R. H. McIntosh of the membership and entertainment committee reported that after a drive during the week for new members that 59 new names had been added to the roll. This was the outcome of a specially planned drive by Chairman McIntosh and the new list of members brings the membership up to, individual members, 236, firm members 58, a total of 294 paying members. The dues of each member is payable in advance and the roll at present does not carry a single delinquent.

A united effort is being put forth by the entire business interests of Cameron, through the Commercial club, and since its organization last March the outcome of their efforts has been wonderful, and with the renewed efforts that are now being put forth at the close of 1919, great strides towards progress are expected. The membership roll now includes practically every business firm and enterprising individual in Cameron.

Important road matters were discussed Friday night. A committee from the Branchville community appeared before the club and stated that a bond issue had been ordered in their community for February 24 and solicited the support of the club. A committee to confer with the citizens of this community was appointed as follows: J. W. Coleman, chairman; Geo. T. Graves, J. D. Dobbins, T. S. Henderson and G. L. Avriett. Further action taken regarding this matter was a unanimous vote of the directors to pledge to the Branchville people as much cash as the Hearne people would give, provided that state aid was not available.

MILAM COUNTY COTTON DOUBLES

Only Fourteen Counties in State Exceeded Milam in Number of Bales Ginned.

Twice as much cotton was ginned in Milam county during the 1918-19 season than was ginned for the preceding season of 1917-18. These interesting figures come from Director Sam L. Dogers, Department of Commerce, at Washington. In comparison with other counties over this state the report for Milam county is an exceptionally good one. The exact figures for this county show that 40,078 bales (counting rounds as half bales) were ginned in 1918-19 as compared with 22,252 bales in 1917-18.

By comparison with all the other counties of Texas for 1918 we find that only fourteen from the total of 252, surpassed Milam, and most of these few by a small margin.

Ellis county led the state with a total ginned of 86,709 bales, followed by Collin, whose output was 66,830. Other leaders were Fannin, Hunt, Fort Bend, Kaufman, Navarro and Williamson counties. Several counties experienced an exceedingly heavy drop in cotton production this year. An interesting example near Milam is McLennan county, whose recorded number of bales ginned in 1917 was 70,553, but which fell off in the year just passed to 40,784 bales.

Bordering Milam county are five counties, only one of which in 1918 (Williamson) surpassed it in the number of bales ginned. The remaining four hardly make an interesting comparison with this county. Here are the figures for these remaining four counties: Bell, 22,584; Falls, 26,601; Lee, 11,776; and Robertson, 32,147. Every one of these except Lee county was ahead of Milam in 1917.

SERGEANT RALPH MAHON RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS

Sergeant Ralph Mahon came in Monday night from New Port News where he landed a short time ago after six months overseas service.

Mr. Mahon was in the 89th Division which is made up of Arizona men who were trained at Camp Funston, Kansas. He was top Sergeant in his company.

He left Camp Funston in July for Corporal Tom Jeter is back home received further training in the soldier line. He spent a month at the front. He participated in the St. Mihiel drive of September 12 to 20 where our boys did such wonderful work, pushing back the Huns. Sergeant Mahon was also in the big drive of September 28th and at this time was gassed. Mr. Mahon brings back the news that the rumor was current in France and in the east that the 36th Division will soon be back in America, having already received its embarkation order.

Mr. Mahon is delighted to be back in the United States with his wife and little son. Before he entered the service he was in the mining business in Globe, Arizona, and he expects to take up this kind of work right away.

Hold Joint Meeting

The Woman's Auxiliary and the Young Women's Auxiliary of the Baptist church met in joint session for their Mission Study class. This class is conducted by the pastor, Rev. B. B. Blaylock and the meeting Monday marked the beginning of the study of missions in the south. Mr. Blaylock gave a birdseye view of the whole book which proved very interesting and instructive. Special assignments were made for the next lesson which comes the fourth Monday in February.

With Miss Denson

The Girls Auxiliary of the Baptist church met with Miss Louise Denson last Monday. The time was spent piecing a quilt which when completed is to be sent to Buckner's Orphans Home. Good work was done and a good time was had during the afternoon by the young folks. At the conclusion of the work the hostess served her guests with hot chocolate and sandwiches.

BRANCHVILLE TO VOTE ON GOOD ROADS

Special Good Roads Election is Ordered by Commissioners Court for February 24th.

Citizens of the Branchville community came before the Commissioners Court in session last Friday afternoon at the court house and produced a petition for a special bond issue in their district to levy a tax for the building of good roads. The committee was headed by former county commissioner Van Tyson and included the following: J. A. Peel, Sr., J. A. Smith, H. V. Harlan, D. E. Miller, J. A. Peel, Jr., A. J. Smith, Joe Foster and Arnold Whitley.

The road that is to be constructed consists of a strip of nine miles in length and will run from the end of the pike road now leading out of Cameron through Maysfield. The road is to be built from this point, known as Harold's Creek, to the Port Sullivan bridge on the Brazos river, where it will connect with the Hearne pike in Robertson county. The leaders of the good road project in this community say that the bond issue will carry by a large majority, that very few opposed and that nearly every man signed the petition for the election. The court ordered the election to be held on February 24th, and efforts are being made to avoid as much losing of time as possible.

The construction of this strip of road will fill one of the two gaps in the road that has been designated by the State Highway Commission as the connecting road between the two Meridian highways that traverse the state. The other strip lies to the west of Cameron and is known as the Buckholts-Rogers road. In this community a bond issue is also being agitated and will doubtless become a reality in the near future. This project being finished, Cameron will have an outlet to both the Meridian Highways, being approximately half way between the two.

In addition to the representatives from Branchville several leading citizens of Jones Prairie, Maysfield, Clarkson and Baileyville were investigating with the Commissioners' Court in the interest of good roads. Decided progress is being made by the citizens of this section toward a general betterment of the roads in this part of the county.

UNCLAIMED HORSE IS PROBLEM FOR SHERIFF

Sheriff L. L. Blaylock has a perfectly good horse on his hands with no one to claim it and—the animal having a wonderfully good appetite, is eating up a whole lot of perfectly good feed with amazing heartiness.

The horse was taken from a negro deserter, Jim Young, alias Henry Williams, who was taken over by federal authorities and is likely to be sentenced for a long term in Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Furthermore, Sheriff Blaylock and Deputy Nabours have been informed that Uncle Sam has no record of any such horse being stolen from any of the camps.

"Unless someone claims the horse it just belongs to the negro," said Mr. Nabours last Tuesday in discussing the proposition to Sheriff Blaylock, who nodded assent. But should the negro be in Fort Leavenworth serving a sentence, what then? The sheriffs department has about decided to write the federal authorities for instructions as to what disposition will be made of the animal. Meanwhile, the horse, little concerned about questions arising over him, just eats, and eats, and eats.

Colonel Nick Houx, who recently sold his paper, the Mexia Ledger, announces that he is now at leisure for the first time in forty years. Let's go fishin'.

Up to the present writing, it may be said that there is more harmony in the thirty-sixth legislature than there has been in any within our memory, and our memory dateth back some.

A resolution was offered in the Texas Senate on the 20th endorsing

United States Senator Morris Sheppard for the presidential nomination to succeed Woodrow Wilson as the logical candidate of the national democrats and prohibitionists. Sheppard is a prohibitionist and a democrat, with only one handicap—he is a Southerner.

It is easy to say "the mob should have been quelled," or "the mob should be punished," but did you ever try to do either? Perhaps you will answer that "it has been done." Yes, it has been done, but more frequently it has been tried and has not been done. It takes a superior force, generally, and a superior force is not always to be had.

A political conviction should carry with it as much sincerity as a religious or any other conviction. An opinion involving any fundamental principle of government should be acquired only after much thought. This requires time. It requires both time and much study to acquire an intelligent opinion on most any subject, and the science of government is no exception.

Bragg Williams, a negro, was lynched in Hillsboro on the 20th. He had been tried and sentenced to hang on February 21st for the murder of a white woman and her child, and his lawyer had given notice of an appeal, though Bragg had made a full confession of the crime. This lynching occurred in spite of the fact that every southern state is making a most determined effort to stop the practice, and simply goes to prove that when a negro harms a white woman in the South the mob spirit brooks no resistance. A deplorable fact, 'tis true, but a fact none the less.

WITH THE EXCHANGES

Brenhan Messenger: The bill introduced in the State legislature having for its object the abolition of the fee system of county and precinct officers, is a move in the right direction.

McKinney Examiner: Wm. Wrigley the chewing magnate, has just taken out a policy for $1,000,000 on his life. That is an instance where a man literally chewed himself right—but he let the people do the chewing and he collected the pay. As a rule one chews himself poor, and the grocer rich. But Wrigley had something good for the people, and like a sensible man he told them of it by advertising in the newspapers. Moral, if you are not a chewing gum magnate, perhaps you have a hog for sale. Advertise it before it eats twice the cost of the ad, in corn.

Weatherford Democrat: Get your Irish potato ground in order now, if you have not already done so. The middle of February is about the proper time to plant Irish potatoes, and a large acreage should be planted in Parker county. There is moisture enough in the subsoil now to prevent a repetition of last year's disastrous experience.

The oldest good story is the one about the boy who left the farm and got a job in the city. He wrote a letter to his brother, who elected to stick by the farm, telling of the joys of city life, in which he said:

"Thursday we autoted out to the country club, where we golfed until dark. Then we motored to the beach and Fridayed there."

The brother on the farm wrote back:

"Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballled all afternoon. Then we went to Ned's and poked till morning. Today we muled out to the corn field and geehawed until sundown. Then we suppered, and then we piped for a while. After that we staircased up to our room and bedsteaded until the clock fived."—San Francisco Argonaut.

They were playing poker in a Western town. One of the players was a stranger and was getting a nice trimming. Finally the sucker saw one of the players give himself three aces from the bottom of the pack.

The sucker turned to the man beside him and said:

"Did you see that?"

"See what?" asked the man.

"Why, that fellow dealt himself three aces from the bottom of the deck," said the sucker.

"Well, what about it?" asked the man. "It was his deal, wasn't it?"—Tit-Bits.

Waxahachie Light: Henry Ford starts into the newspaper business with a paid up capital of $40,000,00 that ought to enable him to hold out for several years.

Yes, but even with forty million dollars at his command, Mr. Ford will have to go easy if he expects to stay in the newspaper business long enough to do his country much service. Feeding white paper into a printing press these days is mighty near like pushing dollar bills into a corn sheller. James J. Hill, the multimillionaire railroad builder, went into the newspaper business at a time when print paper was selling at about half the present price. He worried along at the losing game a few years, then surprised everybody by locking the printing office doors and quitting cold. He didn't even try to sell the business. He was so disgusted he just quit short off. In the first place, he found the newspaper game rather too strenuous for a mere captain of industry. There was too much happening everywhere. He found also that his editorial influence reached hardly as far as he could spit out of the window. The people were strangely indifferent to his editorial voice. They are strangely indifferent to all editorial voices, but Mr. Hill did not realize it for a long time. Molding public opinion looks easy to those who have never tried it. And after Mr. Hill tried it a while he quit suddenly. It may turn out that way with Mr. Ford. He is certain to be disillusioned sooner or later. Possibly he will fall into the frame of mind of a certain "advanced thinker," who feeling that Truth had built a nest in his hair, labored with a dozen different audiences in a dozen different localities without having made any impression. Finally his money running low and his patients altogether exhausted, he cried out passionately, "Gosh darn the thickheads Wall Streets' a-bitin' them and they scratch for chiggers!"

Georgia Has 8,678 Boys in Pig Clubs.

Swine worth half a million dollars were raised by Georgia pig-club members during 1918. Four years ago there were no pig clubs in the State, but under encouragement from the College of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture, 8,678 boys in Georgia are now enrolled in these organizations. Their beneficial effect on the swine industry of the state may be judged from a summary just received by the department from its pig-club agent in Georgia. Outstanding progress is reported as follows: "The increase in final value of hogs raised by pig-club boys in 1918 over those of 1917 was more than 56 per cent. Pig club boys won 70 ribbons and $505 in prizes in the open ring at two Georgia fairs. The increase in number of pure bred hogs raised by pig-club boys in 1918 over 1917 was more than 306 per cent. The State champion was the 11-year-old son of a one horse farmer who bought his pig at an auction sale for $37.50. She is worth $300 today. Six pig-club boys in one county will start hog farms in 1919. All of them began with one small pig."

Mrs. Dan. S. Gilliland.

Last Friday night, January 24th at the Cameron Sanitarium occurred the death of Mrs. Dan S. Gilliland of Tracy. Mrs. Gilliland was a prominent woman of our county and had a host of friends in this city.

Mrs. Gilliland who was Miss Anna Hartsfield, was born in 1869. About thirty years ago she married Mr. Dan S. Gilliland and since that time they have made their home in Tracy. Four children blessed their home, two of whom preceded their mother in death, one dying in early childhood and the other, Mrs. John Davis, dying a few months ago.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. B. B. Blaylock from the Baptist church in Tracy. A special musical program was beautifully and effectively rendered. Mr. Blaylock's words were full of comfort and help. The interment took place at the Sharp cemetery the Woodmen Circle taking charge of the services at the grave.

The death of this good woman has cast a shadow over the entire community. She was loved by every one because to know her meant to love her. She was a good friend and neighbor and a strong christian character, having for many years been a member of the Baptist church. She shall be sorely missed in her home, her church and her community.

The large concourse of people who attended her funeral and the beautiful floral offerings which covered her grave were a testimonial of the love and esteem in which this good woman was held, not alone by the people of her community, but by people from all over the county. Deceased is survived by her husband, one son, Roger, of Tracy, a daughter, Mrs. Clifton Howard of Waco, two sisters and three brothers and a large number of other relatives and friends.

The Herald joins with the people of Cameron and Milam county in extending to these bereaved ones the tenderest sympathy.

With Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Head

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Head entertained last Friday evening, naming Walter Thomas and Truett Blaylock two returned sailors, as honorees.

The living room and dining room were beautiful with read hearts and other trimmings. A large heart was hung from the light in the living room and connected with the corners by festoons of red paper.

A series of games had been arranged for the evening was taken up in the ed by the hostess and every minute enjoyment of these. An Edison also made things lively with music.

Partners were secured for the refreshments by matching hearts. The table was arranged for the guests with kewpies holding the place cards. A delicious salad course was served. Under each plate a heart trimmed cap was found. These were quickly donned by the guests and added to the fun of the occasion.

Apples cut in rings, fried in a very little fat and sprinkled with brown sugar are delicious.

PAYS TO ADVERTISE

As a positive proof that it pays to advertise in The Herald we would cite to you the case of an honorable citizen of Cameron, Mr. Roy P. Jeter of the Jeter Lumber Company, who was grievously inconvenienced by the loss of a favorite red rooster. The fowl for some unknown reason, forsook his warm roost in the Jeter hen house and sought new abodes. The deserted owner, retaining his good judgment under trying conditions, rushed to the Herald for aid. A reward was placed for the return of the cock, the ad went in the Herald. The case was a hard one. The trials and tribulations of Mr. Jeter for the immediately approaching days were indescribable. He searched by day and dreamed by night sought out more red roosters than he had ever before imagined could live in one town the size of Cameron. Had some one appropriated his priceless fowl for chicken pie? The thought was unbearable.

It was yesterday that Mr. Jeter, a happy man, informed us that the red rooster had been found. A lady living several blocks away from the Jeter home decided after reading the Herald that the chicken which had tormented her for the last several days might be the one wanted. It was. Again the red rooster is safe in the old yard.

We have procured one hundred very fine cabinet photographs of General Pershing, and we invite every woman with a relative in the service to call at the bank and secure one of them, as long as they last.

We are proud of this true American soldier and the boys who we so cheerfully sent into his keeping. We thrill at their glorious deeds of daring and the valor and high courage and patriotism which hastened the end of the war and made possible our victory.

In reviewing the victories of our boys over there we are not unmindful of the force that has been back of them—the wonderful spirit of the women at home.

War has ever been a summons to service and sacrifice on the part of the women, and how nobly they have always responded to that call. Universal womanhood—shorn of the presence of their loved one—with lips that smile, while hearts are breaking, yet so valiantly sustain the spirit of the men. These loyal women at home, and the gallant soldiers, have been the real torch bearers of the nation, lighting the world through the suffering and sacrifice of war's black night, to this new morning of Liberty and Freedom. There is no tribute too great to pay to the mothers, wives and sisters of our fighting men, who have kept the flowers blooming and the home fires burning against this day of peace and that other happy day approaching when they may welcome to their arms again their loved ones from trench and camp and ship and sky. Our hearts join with yours in thankfulness for their victory and earnest well wishes for their safe and speedy return.

The courtesies and services of this bank are especially extended to the mothers, wives and sisters of our fighting men, and we shall deem it a privilege to serve and assist them in any way we can.

Time and tide waits for no man---

Are you preparing for next winter? Are you going to wait, wait, wait and buy high-priced feed, the same as you are this winter? Think of this! prepare yourself. Cotton might be six cents next year. Raise feed for your stock, prepare to live at home. If you have fat cows, hogs, sheep and chickens you are independent. You can sell your cotton then at 6 or 20 cents—it is just the same; it is all profit. Make your living at home; have your cotton a side line, then you will change your bank account from red to black, from a note to a deposit slip. Now, this can be done with help of a Silo. The Indiana Silo Company furnishes you a road to prosperity; they have the low price and easy terms, so any one can own a Silo.

REASONS FOR BUILDING

F. T. Miller, Director Division of Public Works and Construction Department Issues Important Statement.

F. T. Miller, director Division of Public Works and Construction Development, Department of Labor, has issued the following, which will interest all prospective builders.

Activity of the construction industry at this time is essential to the general welfare of the country. As Secretary McAdoo recently stated in directing the supervising architect to resume public work, "the activity of the building industry will facilitate the transition of (general) industry from a war to a peace basis."

This is a question that goes beyond the interests of the construction industry. It is fundamental to our entire program of reconstruction and affects society as a whole. After all, reconstruction must be literal as well as metaphorical; the way to bring about reconstruction is to reconstruct. Successful construction depends upon proper team-work between the employee; therefore, the work undertaken by this division falls under the activities of the Labor Department; and under those of the Information and Education Service, which already possesses a nucleus of the necessary organization and important data.

Secretary Wilson's wish is that the Nation be interested in public and private construction. This wish cannot be carried out unless the work is based on facts.

Facts when verified and surveys when completed will be made known to the public and to the members of this great composite industry. This is a service of information and education.

The co-operation of other governmental departments the state councils of defense, etc., is assured. Evidently time can be saved and correctness of viewpoint gained by such co-operation.

The following telegram from the Secretary of War, approved by the Secretary of Labor, was sent out under date of December 21, 1918, to 48 State Councils of National Defense and 4,000 County Councils of National Defense:

"Re-employment of discharged soldiers, sailors and war workers released from war industries is one of the most important tasks now before the country. We strongly urge that in sections where there is a surplus of labor all public improvement be advanced in order to absorb labor. We ask that you use all influence with state, county and municipal authorities to this end. Preliminary steps should be taken immediately in order that necessary authority may be secured in time for operations upon opening of construction season. (Signed) Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War and Chairman of Council of National Defense.

"Approved by:

"Secretary of Labor."

The construction industry—a composite industry—is one of the Nation's largest. Its successful functioning is most necessary for the public welfare. It now needs and merits governmental support more than any other great industry, for the reason that it has necessarily been embargoed by the government during the war.

The British government, whose precedent in curtailing the building industry during the war was followed by our own government, has already taken forethought in this matter.

Deferred building construction is one of the first portions of our war debt which must be met, for it provides facilities for paying the remaining portion of the war debt and also decreases the cost of living.

It is an economic waste to allow labor and materials to remain even temporarily in idleness, when they may in the meantime be put into wealth and tax-producing structures. Money is not consumed in building operations, but passes from one hand to another, and still remains in the national banking system, yet leaves on its way a permanent evidence of wealth—such a water-power, a highway, a railroad, a sewer or other necessities to the earning power of society.

A thrifty farmer reduces his luxuries in order to improve his land and his buildings; a thrifty Nation keeps up its construction program.

Public credit is ample for all public works. The money used circulates through the state ten times in the twelve months and largely remains in the state, while the structure endures for the benefit of society.

Since the beginning of the European war, construction has decreased. There is, therefore, an accumulated need for building. The shortage of construction is indicated by high rents.

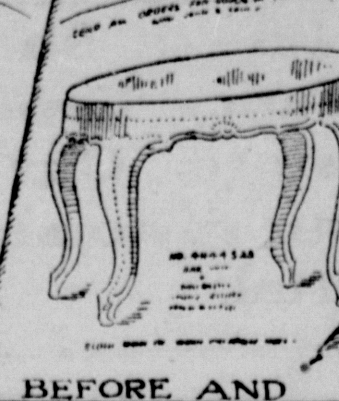

The increased cost of building materials is only about half that of other commodities.

The increased cost of building ma-

materials is offset in some localities by decreased cost of land.

Investments in building has always been considered the safest investment for the individual and his dependents.

The country is probably a full year behind in its civil construction program, amounting to at least three billion dollars. This amount must be caught up and normal building continued; a condition of permanently arrested development of the country is inconceivable.

At a time of quiet in the industry, the far-sighted who have need for building will naturally receive better service than when the rush comes on.

There is a growing understanding between the building employer and the employee of their co-operative relationship, and together they have every incentive for rendering the public efficient service.

It remains for this division to obtain a variety of data in addition to those which it already has, in order, if possible, to point out what kinds of projects can be most prudently undertaken in the various sections of the country.

Co-operation of the architectural and engineering professions, of the practical contractors, and of the two-hundred-odd National Associations of manufacturers, etc., in the practical application of these facts, may be assumed as assured.

Age No Draw Back to Service

"There is no such thing as a retired patriot." One is never too old to render some service to one's country."

This sentiment of Mrs. Richard Flower, ninety-four years old, has impelled her to become one of the leading Red Cross workers of New Orleans. Since the declaration of war she has knitted a dozen sweaters, eight pairs of socks and many helmets muffers and washcloths. The Red Cross authorities highly praise Mrs.

Power's industry and say that her example has been invaluable. She not only works every day at the production of the Red Cross articles, but also keeps abreast of the war news in the papers. She has assisted in several entertainments for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Flower has reared a family of five sons and three daughters. One of her sons was the late Mayor Flower of New Orleans.

I am Sincere! Stop Calomel!
I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone

Listen to me! Calomel sickens and you may lose a day's work. If bilious, constipated or headachy read my guarantee.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't cringe all the next day like violent calomel.

Oh, splash! What can the peace conference do without those Russian bolsheviks there to help things along?
Latest indications are that the Soviet government is hostile to the plan of the meeting and will not honor it with a bolshevik representative.

"I'm not scared of the Kaiser, but I don't want to meet old St. Peter," groaned the wounded soldier to his nurse. Not necessarily the fear of death, friends, but just the natural desire of every normal human being to want to live in this old world a little longer.

Every noted philosopher and statsman of the different countries in Europe is making a wonderfully wellphrased argument to show that his nation should be given a large slice of adjoining territory in order to bring about that "natural national boundary line."

"Yes sirs," continued the little more than a rookie who had been in the supply department for a very short time, "I have been across the Atlantic, saw a sub-mergible submarine, and actually heard the fire of the big guns on the battlefields of France." Among the listeners gathered around the narrator of these well advertised experiences was a doughboy who had spent six months in the trenches, had gone "over the top" seven times, had been gassed once, and seriously wounded twice in hand-to-hand combat with the Hun. He said never a word.

We notice that the Temple Daily Telegram has started a column headed "The Central Press" in which it publishes clippings from different daily and weekly papers over this section of the state. The idea is a good one. The Telegram is one of Texas' most popular dailies and never "overlooks a bet." The column is ably presided over by Andrew McBeath.

Up east they say that Texas is so full of oil fields that the railroad authorities have lately issued complaints about the derricks infringing on the right-of-ways, the result of which passengers are drowned by the big gushers being brought into existence every few minutes; and further that orders have been issued to keep all Pullman windows closed while passing through the Lone Star State.

The little woman stepped upon the
I. & G. N. train and, followed by her mother, started down the aisle. "Hello nursie," came a thunderous yell as six feet of muscle and brawn sprang into the center of the car and launched forth on a vigorous wringing of the former Red Cross nurse's arm.
"Don't you know me? Why, I am Tex, the sick rookie you put new life in back there in Mud Camp." She remembered him. Then the big soldier met the little nurse's mother, and the nurse met the big soldiers' two sisters.
They all sat down together and there was talking, and laughing, and talking, as the Red Cross nurse and the formerly sick soldier reviewed old times. This is the only one of thousands of similar incidents taking place over the land that show the love of the soldier for the Red Cross nurse.
Who can blame the doughboy for idolizing the one who braved dangers to act the part of a mother for him even to the battlefields of death?
She will live immortal in the sights of those in uniform who have had the occasion and opportunity to know her.

Col. Christopher C. Slaughter, age 82, the first white child to be born in Texas after it became the Republic of Texas, died in Dallas last Saturday after a long period of poor health.

Colonel Slaughter was a pioneer cattleman of this state, Indian fighter, banker and philanthropist. He leaves behind the record of a useful career, having been one of the organizers of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association and in 1885 its president, active in several banking enterprises over the state and at the time of his death vice president of the American Exchange National Bank in Dallas, which position he had held since 1884.
At the time of his death Colonel Slaughter was said to be the wealthiest cattle man in Texas, and his property included 500,000 acres of land in addition to business property over the state. He was a large contributor to the Baptist churches of Texas.
The father of the deceased was George Webb Slaughter, the man who carried the order from General Sam Houston to the men holding the Alamo to vacate the fort. He fought in the Battle of the Alamo. Colonel Slaughter was himself a captain in the Confederate army during the civil war and in the Texas Rangers before of the conflict between the states.

A bill that deserves the best consideration of every conscientious member of the state legislature is one introduced last Friday in the Senate limiting the use of money in the elections of candidates for state and county offices. In the past the amount of money lavishly expended on some candidates has placed other less fortunate ones at a great disadvantage.
This very condition, which should have been remedied long ago, has been a grave menace to our state's political welfare, for there have been repeated cases where a man best suited for an office in the state or county has been defeated solely because he could not stand up to the expenses afforded by the rivaling candidate.
The bill as introduced in the senate last week specifies the amounts to be allowed as campaign expense money for different offices from United States Senator and governor ($10,- 000) to county officers, who are allowed only $300 provided the population of the county in which the candidates run is less than $30,000 propulation. The maximum that may be expended by a member of the House of Representatives is placed at $200.
The details should be determined after careful investigation and comparison. The general idea is a good one.

receipt and stand ready for what you think is right in the elections that are liable to come up at any time during the year, you acknowledge that you are not fitted to be a citizen, that you deserve to be ignored politically, and that you should sit back in the corner and obey while the men of the nation do the real thinking and run the government.

The men are paying as usual, according to reports from the tax collectors' offices. They will continue to pay in the future because they realize the true value of citizenship and the responsibility involved in it.
Their forefathers fought and shed their life blood for the ballot. They will give their lives in battle against any attempt to take it away from them.

You are getting that same privilege, not with bloodshed and hardships, but merely because the present law makers place utmost confidence in you.
The early passage of legislation allowing women to vote in all elections, general as well as primary and local,
is almost certain. In that case you will undoubtedly have the opportunity to vote on prohibition later in the year. True, this is not an election year, but so uncertain are elections that you cannot tell what will come up this year for decision at the polls.
The big joy of being a qualified voter is that you stand ready to meet anything that might appear, scratching it or supporting it according to your conscience. This is the way a true citizen protects his state against base legislation. If all the well meaning citizens should neglect to pay their poll taxes until something certain confronted them for ballot, they would allow the government to sink to a state of hopeless corruption.

Women of Milam County! Can you fill the bill of true citizens? You can, but you will have to do some heroic work. You have until Friday night at midnight to round up the voters of this county. Women of Cameron, you will do yourselves credit by starting the drive. Canvass the city, keep the telephone humming, let the leading ladies of every locality in the county awake their slumbering sisters and get them to the tax collectors' office with $1.75 not one minute later than Friday midnight. The women of Cameron and Rockdale will have to pay the city tax of one dollar additional, total $2.75. Pay the county and state tax to County Tax Collector W. A.
Bonds in his office on the court house yard. Cameron women will also see City Tax Collector Dan Tyson at his office for the city tax.

Nature's Music

Sighing through the trees, whispering among the nodding flowers, swaying the golden fields of wheat, the gentle wood-wind zephyr trips across the world of summer. Caressingly it wafts the multitudinous seeds to new and fertile soils; it is at once the shepherd and the master of all the countryside.

Your own senses may feel the breath of the wood wind, whether you live in country or in city, amid Northern snows or under tropic palms, wood-wind choir of the great modern orchestra, the flute,

the clarinet, the oboe and their companions.

The dainty, charming tones of these reed instruments, the delicacy of music they make, has no counterpart save the wild wood wind of nature itself.

With the New Edison you may hear these RE-CREA-

Devotional

She said her "Lay me down," her head
Was bowed upon her arms, outspread
On her wee bed. In nightie white
She was a vision of the night;
Her little feet were tiny and bare,
The light shown on her golden hair
Until there was a halo there.

She said her "Lay me down," and I Put pipe and paper softly by
And tiptoed across the room,
And through the hallway's purple gloom,
And stood and watched her kneeling there,
A little babe lost in her prayer,
A golden halo around her hair.

She said her "Lay me down," and I Crept to her room and I stood by
And heard her childish accents sweet,
And gazed upon her rosy-pink feet,
And standing looking at her there
I added my prayer to her prayer,
My little babe sweet and fair.

Planting Seed.

I have about 20 tons of seed that I have kept for planting which are from cotton raised from Storey Myrick Mebane seed that were direct from Lockhart in 1917, and gin records show a lint per cent from them of from 35 1/2 to 40 9-10 per cent. These seed were saved pure as we used every care in handling them at the gins, the rolls being run out each time before these seed were caught. I will sell these seed while they last at $2.25 per bushel. R. L. Batte, Cameron, Texas.

High School Quintet Loses

On Friday afternoon, January 24, the Cam-Hi basket ball team lost to Ben Arnold in a hard fought game. The whole Cam-Hi student body came out in full force, in support of their team. The game started and the first minute of play a foul was called on Cameron. Ben Arnold threw a goal, Cameron then threw a field goal. Ben Arnold then came back with a series of field goals, thus taking a big lead. The visitors kept making field goals and increasing their lead, now and then Cameron making a score.

The visitors made several more field goals at the first part of the second half. The Cam-Hi did not pick up until the last when Wiley and Burke showed some of their old time stuff, but as Ben Arnold had such a lead, time did not permit our forwards to match the final score which was 24 for Ben Arnold and 20 for the Cam-Hi.

This week the Cam-Hi Military Company is at work again, and we are expecting to put some of our drill into practice at an early date. "Capt." Crawford is expecting to take the company on a military hike next Friday night, and plans are now being perfected whereby this expedition will resemble a real marching army. Camp fires and camp cooking will be the issues of the night, but guards will be stationed around the camp, also around the provisions. The lieutenants, sergeants and corporals to be appointed will have charge of enforcing the strict military laws which are to be formulated for this particular "punitive" expedition.

The Freshman Ambition.

Some Freshmen think just because they are in high school, that they know even more than the seniors. The freshmen are not to be blamed for this, because when they were in the grades they were harrassed until they wished that there would be no more school, but when they got into high school, with all its privileges the pleasure of attending school came back to them.

The first month every things runs smoothly, then the freshmen get it into their heads that to be a sophomore would be better because sophomores have an easier time.

This ambition continues for a month or so, then the Freshmen decide it would be better to be a Junior because the Juniors have more privileges than the sophomores. That ambition continues for two months then the freshmen get it into their heads that to be a Senior is better than all, because they have more privileges than any class in high school. When the freshmen are promoted to the Senior class they want to remain seniors always, because they have found that after one graduates he has no privileges at all.

Standard Day.

Thursday, January 23, as announced before, was set aside as standard day. Although visitors were few the day was a success for the pupils made it so. Visitors would have been welcomed but, as they were not here, the pupils assumed judgment to say that there had at least been a marked improvement made. Supt. Reid of the Rosebud High School was the only visiting teacher, we hope that he profited by his visit, and that we were able to show him conditions that were up to the standard.

There were also quite a number of patrons who visited the grades. They expressed themselves as being well pleased both with recitations, conduct and play ground activity. We hope that this work was of such a grade that they will come again any time. The faculty and student body are always glad to see visitors. The inspectors are coming later and we hope that we shall have our work as near the standard as we did on Standard Day.

We announced in last week's news that a senior speaker would spend ten minutes in the study hall each day discussing the workings of the peace conference. These talks are instructive and should be given the best of attention by every one. Mr. Raymond C. Thompson gave the first of these instructive talks, in which he summed up the work that had been done and the plans for the future. Next day Homer Peel favored us by discussing the work of the conference on the previous day. Standard Day,

L. J. Epperson gave the entire work that had been done by the peace delegates. Miss Louise Green was appointed for Friday but her speech was postponed until Monday. Thus far the talks have been excellent and we are sure that they will continue so in the future.

Senior Psalm.

1. The faculty is our Shepherd, we shall not want.
 2. It maketh us study everything. It giveth us plenty to do.
 3. It restoreth our mentality. It leadeth us into "deep waters" for its ideals are high.
 4. Yes, tho we go thru the study hall at noon we dare not be too noisy, lest N. H. hearth us for its ears are sharp and we are afraid of it.
 5. When we go home we are at ease for no teacher is there; we need not fear them then.
 6. But when we goeth back to school, O, my! surely rules and restrictions shall follow us all the days of our life and we shall dwell in misery and woe forever. L. M. K.

German Program

The Senior German Class of the Cameron High School gave a program in German last Thursday. After the assignments were made by Miss Rose, Katy McCall took charge and called off the program which was as follows: "Germelshausen, Ein Erzählung"—August Knipp.

"Tannenbaum Ein Lied"—By the class.
 "Der Rattenjanger von Hamlin"—Louise Green.

"Die Lorelei Felsen"—Harriet Henderson.

"Stille Nache, Ein Lied"—By Class.
 "Sprichuort"—Irene Cheeves, Owen Bacon, Mae Kennon, Vernon Roberts, Louise Botla, Irene Williams, Lidia Matula, Viola Marek, Raymond Ethridge.

7. "Eine Geditt"—James Coleman.

Then followed a discussion in German of Gerstackeis "Germelshausen." The following visitors were present to enjoy the talent and ability exhibited by the class:

Dr. A. S. Epperson, Mrs. Lula Gillis, Mrs. Pope, Mrs. Jeff Hefley and Supt. L. H. Kidd of Cameron and Supt. Reid of Rosebud.

New Piano For High School.

Cam-Hi has needed a new piano for a long time. This is shown plainly when one of the literary societies try to have a chapel program. At the last meeting of the Mothers Club the idea of getting a new one was discussed and they decided to raise the money for one. It is true then that we are able to have a new piano and we, the students of the Cameron High School wish to thank them. The school intends to buy the piano from our local dealer.

Good English Week.

As one of the me'ts of work toward being a standard school, Cameron High School observed a standard week in English last week. The purpose was to arouse the enthusiasm of the students in advancing class spirit by using better English.

The method used was one of the features of the week. All the teachers cooperated in aiding this movement and their influence was greatly felt. Each day certain errors were written on the boards in the class rooms and were explained and discussed. If any doubt arose, the rules pertaining to these errors were looked up and learned. The English teacher used the plan of giving points for the students corrections in not only their own speech but also in the speech of outsiders. Many points were given before the week was over. The students showed their ability in art by ten cartoons which were drawn for the benefit of good English. One typical cartoon was of good English in the form Old Dutch Cleanser, chasing out three common errors: cute, awful and nice. Another was of a soldier expressing patriotism in speech. For every month except May until the school term is out a good English week will be observed.

Does Cam-Hi Need a Business Course?

She had deposited five dollars and was given a check book. She entered the bank later to cash a check.

"But my dear lady, you have overdrawn your account by about ninety-five dollars," said the cashier.

"You are mistaken," said the Cam-Hi girl, "I have not," holding up the check book, "see I have two more checks."

Cam-Hi Orchestra.

The orchestra is rapidly being formed into really a first class organization. The director is working all hours trying to get ready for a special sacred concert to be given some Sunday afternoon in the near future. There are about twenty-five members and all are working hard to make the Cam-Hi Orchestra one of the best in the state. This is not a wild boast,

Heard on The Military Field.

Pvt. Kennon—"Excuse me for the rest of the drill Lt. Denson."

At the time of going to press, reports are being rumored that the Junior boys are about to challenge the Seniors for a basket ball game. The Seniors are game and will probably accept, and make the Juniors regret their boldness.

Three necessary factors in successful farming are:

1. The greatest possible yields at the lowest possible cost.
 2. The opportunity to sell at a profit over cost of production.
 3. Roads in such condition and such railway facilities as will enable the grower to place his product in the hands of the buyer at a reasonable hauling cost.

If any one of these factors is lacking, or is even poor, farming will decline, trade languish, and social, educational and religious life will be restricted. Colonel Henry Exall used to say that no man is so far from market as the farmer who has nothing to sell, and all farmers have experienced the disappointment of selling their products under the cost of production. A community with bad roads does not realize the handicap it suffers, because it has never known what good roads mean, and for this reason farmers often stand in their own light in the matter of road improvement. Everybody likes good roads, but no one likes the added tax required to build and keep them in good condition.

The total value of the farm lands of the United States in 1900 was thirteen billion dollars; in 1910, twenty-eight and a half billion dollars. No more food was grown on the average acre in those ten years but there were fifteen million more people to be fed in 1910 than in 1900; thus the increase in total value of $936.86 for each person added to the population, or the doubling of the acre's value, has come from the greater use that must be made of the land. Greater use of the land can only be made by getting its products more quickly and easily to the shipping point.

It has been said that it costs seven-eighths of a cent to move a ton of freight over one mile of railroad; twenty-three cents to haul it one mile over the average dirt road in the United States, and forty-three cents to haul it one mile over the average dirt road in Texas. These figures are several years old and therefore do not closely approximate the haulage cost at this time, but they serve to show where the greatest improvement can be made, and where a good part of the fifteen and a half billion dollars came from that were added in ten years to the value of land that grew no more foodstuffs in 1910 than in 1900.

Texas needs good roads.

DRAGGING TO IMPROVE ROADS MUST BE PERSISTENT

The main trouble about dragging roads is that we do not drag them enough. What's everybody's business is nobody's business. A rain comes and the road is cut. We drag it and improve it wonderfully, and the community is enthusiastic over good roads. Another rains comes and we drag again, but this time we are not so eager. Another rain comes and, somebody says, Whats the use? so the road is left to remain in chuck holes and ditches. Probably we have no more rain for several weeks, and we bounce over roads that a days work would have smoothed says the Progressive Farmer.

Persistent dragging will keep any ordinary road in good shape, provided the road has been put in good condition with grader to begin with. Dragging must be done after every rain, if good results are expected. The ground should be dry, but not so dry that it will tear up in clods. Continually dragging gradually elevates the center of the road, and keeps the surface smooth so that the water runs off. Usually two rounds with a drag is all that is necessary.

A home made drag that does just as good as the steel drag, can be made very easily. This drag is made box fashion, out of 2x12 plank. These plank are bolted together securely with long bolts, about 18 inches apart. The bottom is left open, but the top is boxed over with plank stout enough to bear the weight of two or three men. The front runner is faced with a piece of steel to protect the plank and to cut the dirt smoothly. The driver rides on the drag, and can change its position as desired by shifting his weight from one end to the other. —Waxahachie Light.

Notice in Probate

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Milam County—Greeting:

FORD STATION IN CAMERON SUPERIOR

Finished Fords Can Be Built From Complete Supply Department of Chambers-Hefley Co.

Did you know that Cameron has an
up to date A-1 Ford Service Station,
one that is equal to that of any town
of its size in this section of the country? That place is claimed to be the Chambers-Hefley Company.

Perhaps few Ford stations have equipment so complete that they can build complete running Fords out of their stock of supplies. Chambers-Hefley claims to be able to do that very thing. While the contract with the Ford producers requires an ordinarily complete stock Cameron's concern is declared to have a stock
fully twice as large.

The mechanical department has all kinds of special tools that are designed especially for the Henry Ford car.
Some look like jumping jacks, other similar to crabs, and each has some eccentric kind of a name that the ordinary man would get weak minded
trying to remember, but they nevertheless do the work that Mr. Ford intended them to do. That is the reason that this establishment claims to be in a position to fix a "tin Lizzie"
just twice as quick as the place without the special accommodations. That is also the reason that the expert
Ford mechanics of this place can overhaul a Ford motor and at the end of the job pull themselves up to full height and guarantee it for ninety
days, the same as the guarantee one gets with a new Ford motor. This department is superintended by C. E.
Wishard. In the battery department
is the largest charging generator of any neighboring localities.

The Chambers-Hefley concern is run completely according to the Ford
system, designated by the Ford people for most efficient service in shop,
mechanical part, and even in the methods of keeping books. The Ford agency was secured by this firm in 1915 and has made rapid progress
since that time. Recently a new and modern building was erected and especially designed to handle the car
trade in a most efficient manner. The cars are doctored on the second floor,
to which they are raised by an elevator. The building has a storage capacity of 75 cars.

Mrs. R. A. Triggs Entertains

o'clock Mrs. R. A. Triggs entertained
with a luncheon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Geo. A. Thomas, whose birthday it was.

Places were laid at the table for fourteen ladies who had been special friends of Mrs. Thomas during her residence in Cameron. The table was beautifully decorated with crystal, silver and dainty nappery. Red, the chosen color found expression in decorations and menu. The centerpiece
was a pot of cyclamen in full bloom.
The lights were shaded with red and
red birds were saucily perched on comportes holding nuts and rinds
placed at intervals on the table.

An excellent luncheon was served
in the following courses:
Oyster Cocktail Crackers,
Turkey, dressing, peas, carrots
Hot rolls, Pimento salad Crackers
Ice cream Fruit Cake
Coffee Cheese balls

The table talk turned around old
times in Cameron and many a rare
anecdote was told and enjoyed by the ladies. Between each course, Mrs. T.
S. Henderson, the toast-mistress of the occasion, in her inimitable and charming way introduced a toast.

During the afternoon the following
clever toasts were given:

Old Lang Syne—Mrs. R. H. Mc-Intosh.

The Tie That Binds—Mrs. W. H.
Triggs.

Neighbors—Mrs. A. N. Green.

Many happy returns of the Day—

Gilt Edge Oil And Gas Company

YOU TO PARTICIPATE IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF A
REAL OIL PROPERTY.

We have a lease on Twenty-Five acres southeast of Burkburnett, where all the trend in development at present is taking place.

It is a section where more than twenty deep tests have been started, any one of which getting the 1,000-barrel sand at the 1,700-foot level will double the value of our stock. In the past few days the value of leases in this section has increased 500 per cent.

Our property is on the Kemp & Kell subdivision of the Thornberry survey, six and one-half miles southeast of Burkburnett, on the southern slope of the Petrolia-Burkburnett field.

In addition to our chances for the big gusher oil, we KNOW that we have two sand strata, one of which produces 10 to 15 barrels at 410 feet, and another producing 50 or more barrels at 600 feet. On Jan. 20, in a well 1 1/2 miles southeast of us, a new sand was discovered at 775 feet, producing 100 barrels or more per day.

THERE IS NO DOUBT AT ALL

that our property will produce paying oil, as it is in proven territory, and we have a good chance for 1,000 barrel gushers, which, if found, will make our stock worth 500 per cent above par.

We guarantee in our trust agreement to put one well down to a depth of 2,000 feet.

OUR CAPITAL IS ONLY $50,000

The Company is a registered trust association and its officers are WELL KNOWN TEXANS, who have not only a high standing as business men, but have lived in the oil territory for years and know how to operate an oil company successfully.

OFFICERS OF THE COMPANY

S. B. Cook, Henrietta, Texas, President.

Percy Webb, Wichita Falls, Texas, Vice President.

N. G. Davis, Bowie, Texas, Secretary and Treasurer.

Mr. Cook is in the cattle business; he has done business in Archer
City and Henrietta for twenty-six years.

Mr. Webb is a well known business man who has had a large experience in oil development.

Mr. Davis is in the ginning and cotton business. He has owned gins at Bowie and Petrolia for the past eighteen years.

OUR PRESENT STOCKHOLDERS ARE MOSTLY FARMERS AND COWMEN

OPERATIONS WILL BEGIN AT ONCE

Just as soon as enough stock is sold, active operations will be begun GETTING OIL.

THE PAR VALUE OF SHARES IS $50.00

They are sold at present at the par value, but there are so many deep tests going down in our vicinity, any one of which, any day, may strike the big gusher sand, that we do not guarantee to continue selling at par.

ON A CAPITALIZATION OF $50,000.00

One 50 barrel well will produce $45,500 per annum, or 90 per cent.

One 100-barrel well will produce $93,000 per annum, or 180 per cent.

One 1000-barrel well will produce $930,000 per annum, or 1800 per cent.

We have ample space on our 25 acres for TEN WELLS.

The Pipe Lines between Burkburnett and Wichita Falls run through our property.

The Fowler Farm Company, organized by a cattle feeder of Burk-burnett, with a capital of only $12,000, now has property valued at $3,000,000, and a daily income of more than the total capital stock.

There are numerous small companies (wild-catters, they are called) which are paying their stockholders from 25, 50 to 100 per cent, PER MONTH.

Our office is at 304 Reynolds Building. Phone Lamar 3237.

WHEN GENERAL FOCH TOOK FULL COMMAND

"Under Four Flags" Tells Thrilling
Story of Marvelous Military Achiev-ment Under a Unified Command.

Beginning with the great Allied conference at Versailles, which ended
with the selection of General Foch as
the generalissimo of the Allied armies,
immediately after the Great German
drive in March, "Under Four Flags,"
the third United States official war
feature picture issued by the Division
of Films of the Committee on Public Information, carries the story through
the dark days of the Hun advance to the turning tide of the war on the Marne at Chateau Thierry, and then
into the glorious days leading up to the German admission of a need for peace. It is the most comprehensive motion picture of the war that has been issued, for the reason that it is not confined to the activities of the American army, but also visualizes
the splendid heroism of our allies in the war.

"Under Four Flags" which is being distributed by the World Film Corporation, will be seen at the Wonderland Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 4 and 5, and it will give those who see it a new view of the magnitude and tremendous scope

Washington, Jan. 29.—Ratification of the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution, effective January 16, 1920, was proclaimed today in a proclamation signed at 11:20 a. m. at the state department by Acting Secretary Polk.

This ends the fight that has been raging over the liquor question for years. Finally, by securing the ratification of the necessary two thirds of the states to make the federal amendment effective, prohibition has been officially upheld and will be in effect throughout the boundaries of this country within the next year. Latest reports tell that not only the necessary two thirds of the states have ratified, thirty-six, but that the forty-fourth state has declared itself in favor of the amendment. Since the beginning of the world war liquor has lost strength steadily. This marks the culmination of the struggle in this country.

Bill Marek and Steve Mecal have opened a new market in the Fritz Fahrendorf building.

Mrs. Frank Peebles and little son, of Houston have returned home after a visit to Mrs. Peebles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bosley.

Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

MORE!

Your Farm Journals, the Agricultural Colleges, and the U. S. Department Bulletins tell you:

Agricultural Lime well applied to the wet, tight, sour spots in your fields will neutralize the acid in the soil, making it mellow and sweet, and will release the plant food in the soil for use of the growing crops.

Therefore:

Why not spend a little money in liming the land and not burden yourself with so much labor, for the small return.

We have ten or twelve tons of Agricultural Lime on hand now, and now is the time to use it.

GIVE BACK THE JOBS.

During last summer when men were being lifted out of their daily occupations by the draft and landed in the army there was general acclaim of the proposition that every soldier upon his return from the war should have his job back if he wanted it.

The boys are coming back now and they are needing those jobs. In many cases women and girls have supplanted men, often at lower wages; in others men not amenable to the draft are filling soldiers' jobs.

In some quarters there is a disposition to let present matters stand; no room is to be made for the soldier boy who fought it out over there or who was prepared to do so upon call.

This is not right and should not be permitted to continue; every soldier boy who left employment to enter the army should be taken back to fill the place he vacated unless some insurmountable obstacle prevents.

Now that the war is over people should not forget these boys who stood ready to sacrifice their all that the stay at home might have three squares each day, a good bed to sleep in at night, warm clothes

all the creature comforts and amusements galore.

The plan to slow up demobilization should not be approved; the men are anxious to get home, having done their bit in army life and the require them now to remain in the army at $30 per month because if discharged they would take the places of non-combatants who are picking off the high salaries is not just.

The high salaries and the good things in life should be the soldier's lot, but if some one has to lose or be inconvenienced let it be those who warmed the chairs at home rather than the man who answered his country's call.

In washing real lace, rinse finally in skim milk which gives it a soft creamy tone.

At The Peace Table.

Who shall sit at the table then, when the terms of peace are made—The wisest men of the trouble lands in their silver and gold brocade? Yes, they shall gather in solemn state to speak for each living race, But who shall speak for the unseen dead that shall come to the council place?

Though you see them not and you hear them not, they shall sit at the table, too; They shall through the room where the peace is made and know what it is you do;

The innocent dead from the sea shall rise to stand at the wise man's side, And over his shoulder a boy shall look—a boy that they crucified.

You may guard the doors of that council hall with barriers strong and stout, But the dead unbidden shall enter there, and never you'll shut them out.

And the man that died in the open boat, and the babes that suffered worse, Shall sit at the table, when peace is made by the side of a martyred nurse.

You may see them not, but they'll all be there; when they speak you may fail to hear; You may think that you're making your pacts alone, but their spirit will hover near;

Story Telling For Patriotism.
Patriotism Through Conservation

One of the greatest assets of the good impulses born of the present struggle is the ideal of thrift and conservation that it is bringing to the children of American homes. Without feeling the pinch of actual want, they are learning the useful game of making the best and the most of things. New values are being discovered, economy is no longer looked down upon, but is raised to the level of an art, and simple living is going to make healthier bodies and stronger minds for the children who will be the citizens of tomorrow's freedom.

Help the children, through a story, to work out a plan of conservation that will fit their own lives. What, on his own plane can a little child do without, save, or put to a wider use in our crisis of today? The story of "The Birthday Cake" suggests food economy, and after the children have heard it, they may make their own application of the lesson in other home sacrifice.

What Happened to the Birthday Cake.

"It will need four eggs and a cup of sugar and some milk and some flour," mother said, as she went to the pantry to get the yellow mixing bowl and the sifter to make Barbara's birthday cake.

"It needs sugar, too, for the frosting, and please make very thick frosting, mother dear," Barbara begged. She was standing beside the kitchen table, watching for she was going to be 6 years old in just a few days. It was to be her birthday cake, rich and sweet, and shining on the supper table with six pink, lighted candles.

"I am afraid that the cake and the frosting together will use up all our sugar," mother said as she came back. "I wonder," she went on, with just a little bit of worry in her voice, "if we could manage with two eggs instead of four. Eggs cost so much now."

"Well, we have to make a birthday cake, don't we mother, because I always cut it and share it?" Barbara said. Mother looked down in Barbara's kind little face and she thought a moment too. That was the wonderful part about mother and Barbara, they so often thought the same things. Then they said something to each other, laughed, and hugged each other, and mother put away the big yellow mixing bowl and flour sifter.

The next day was Barbara's birthday and two people who didn't have birthdays had surprises.

Timothy, whose mother did the washing, had been very ill for a long time. He was getting better, and could sit up in the big rocking chair, all wrapped up in a quilt, and try to smile out through the window when Barbara passed. Barbara stopped at Timothy's door on the morning of her birthday. She had a basket on her arm. She took from it a bottle of creamery milk and a bag that held four white eggs.

"Here is a part of my birthday cake for you, Timothy," Barbara said. "It will make you get well faster."

Granny Blake was just putting her tea kettle on her stove when she heard a knock at the door of her little house. When she opened it she saw Barbara who loved Granny Blake so much. No one could make such nice rag dolls as Granny, and she was always cheerful and smiling, even when she had hardly enough coals to make her kettle boil.

Barbara still carried her basket, and she took a package of sugar and a freshly baked loaf of wheat bread out of it.

Then Barbara went home almost as happy as if she had eaten a large piece of frosted birthday cake. But when the day was almost over and it grew dark, Barbara began to wish that she could see the six pink lighted candles shining for her birthday. She went slowly in to supper, thinking of them. And oh, what a surprise she found there!

In a rosy circle in the middle of the table shone six pink, lighted candles set in six pink rosebud holders. In the center of this birthday circle of lights was a bowl that held six beautiful pink roses from the garden and beside Barbara's plate was a parcel wrapped in pink tissue paper. When Barbara blew out the candles and opened the parcel she found a pink hair ribbon for a birthday present.

"What a beautiful birthday this has been, mother," said Barbara, "without a birthday cake!"

"I Wouldn't Take Five Hundred Dollars for the Good Five Bottles of Tanlac Did Me." Says Mrs. Hunt.

"I wouldn't take five hundred dollars for the good that five bottles of Tanlac have done me, and I just think it is worth its weight in gold," said Mrs. Nannie Hunt, 6019 New York Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee.

"I was told repeatedly that my nervousness could not be cured and it made me so despondent that I hardly knew what to do. Even the noise of the street cars passing would upset me so that I would shake like a leaf. My heart fluttered and palpitated and many a time I have had fainting spells and fallen to the floor. My stomach was so torn up that I couldn't even digest an egg, and this had gone on for five years until I was on the verge of nervous prostration.

"A friend of mine who knew that my case had been given up as hopeless made me a present of three bottles of Tanlac, and it proved to be a priceless gift. I have taken five bottles altogether and have gained eleven pounds in weight and haven't had a nervous spell since last Christmas. I can eat anything I want and am building up every day. I just can't say too much in praising Tanlac.

An Ancient Fellowship.

And the chief captain said: "With a great price obtained I this freedom" And Paul said: "But I was free born." They were talking, back there in the time recorded in Acts, of Roman citizenship. For more than two thousand years that honor has been prized. President Wilson thus enters, when honored as "A Citizen of Rome," a fellowship as ancient and historic as any publicity conferred by mankind.

BOYS WANTED TO JOIN CORN CLUB

County Agent Banzhaf Gives Outline of Commercial Club Work—Free Seed Corn.

One hundred boys in the neighborhood of Cameron are wanted to join the Boys' Corn Club, according to a statement by County Agent George Banzhaf, who is in charge of the organization of these clubs in Milam County. The article from the county agent printed below requests the boys to send their names to George Banzhaf, Rockdale, Texas. Read the plans for the 1919 Boys' Corn Club:

"The Cameron Commercial Club has furnished the money to purchase some seed corn for club work, among the boys of the Cameron trade territory. I have purchased some of the best seed corn that money could buy. I am going to give each boy who becomes a member of the club enough of this good seed to plant an acre of land. Who may become a member? Any boy in the trade territory of Cameron between the ages of ten and eighteen years may become a member by filling out an enrollment card furnished by the County Agent and mailing it to him. Members must agree to plant one acre of corn and give it good cultivation. A small boy is allowed to hire help. Members must keep an accurate daily record of their work and make a report at the close of the season on a report form furnished by the County Agent. Special effort is made by the Extension Service of the A. & M. College of Texas to furnish club boys with good agricultural literature, which will not cost you a cent. As corn planting time will soon be here, we haven't any time to lose, for I want to get this seed corn to the boys by the 15th of February or not later than the 22nd. We will want to begin planting about the first of March. I want the names and addresses of all boys who want to join this club. Just drop me a post card or letter, and I will then mail you the application card to fill out.

I would like for all applications to reach me not later than the 10th of February. This will give me time to notify all boys by card or letter, just what day to meet me in Cameron, to get their seed corn. We will also organize that day and talk over club work. We "want to go over the top" in raising corn this year. We want to help feed the world. We expect to have a corn show in Cameron next fall, also win some prizes at the Dallas Fair. To parents and teachers I would say encourage your boys in agriculture club work."

Yours very truly,
Geo. Banzhaf,
County Agent, Rockdale, Texas.

Miss Bond Sneed Succumbs To Pneumonia in Georgetown.

Miss Bond Sneed, age 24 years, of Georgetown, died in that city last Monday morning of pneumonia. This death is of especial interest to Cameron people in that the Sneed family formerly were prominent residents of Milam county and that the father of deceased, J. T. Sneed, who was killed a few years ago in Georgetown, was one of the organizers of the Citizen's National Bank of Cameron. City Tax Assessor Dan Tyson is a cousin of the young woman. Many friends of the bereaved family will recall that the old Sneed home is three miles northeast of Jones Prairie.

At the time of the death Mrs. Julia Tyson, aunt to Miss Sneed, who lives in Cameron, was at the bedside. The funeral was held in Georgetown at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Miss Sneed was a graduate of Southwestern and in addition attended several colleges outside the state. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Lillian Sneed, Georgetown; one brother, Phil. Sneed, of Georgetown; three half brothers, J. T. Sneed, Jr., of Amarilla, John P. Sneed of Peduecha, and Marvin Sneed of Calvert; and one half sister, Mrs. Terry Thompson, Amarillo.

We Can't Miss Getting Oil

Burkburnett (10 acres) the Wonder Field—Earth County (20 acres) The Gusher Land Coryell County (50 acres) The Penna Formation.

THE BEST IN BURKBURNETT

We believe that we have the best location in the wonder field of the world. There is a veritable ring of producing wells around our ten acres in Burkburnett.

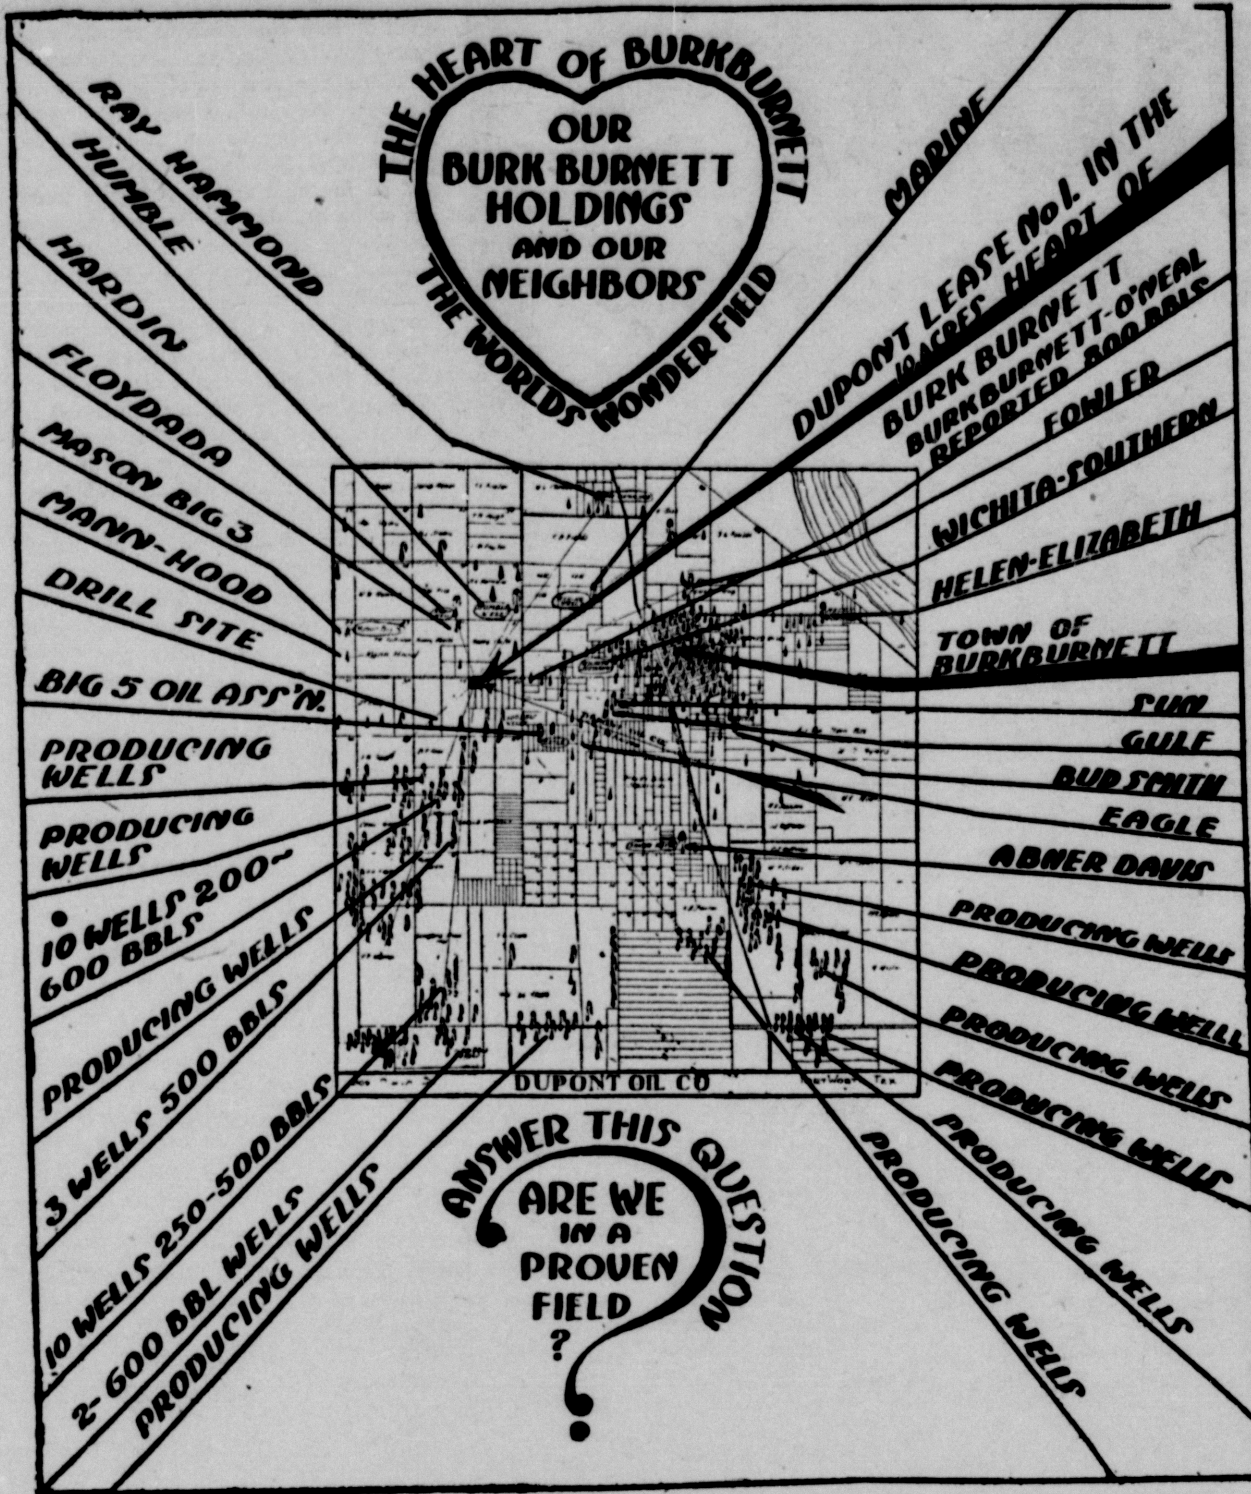

There has been more money made in oil investments in the Burkburnett field than in any other the world has ever known. Practically every derrick one sees in this field, and there are hundreds of them, is an oil well. It is estimated that there is hardly a dry hole in the entire field to be found—one great big immense lake of oil is believed to be under ground on acre after acre of land, in and adjoining Burkburnett, and we predict that oil will be flowing dividend checks to shareholders in oil companies operating in this field in the next generation to come.

Our location is the ten acres in the N. W. corner of block forty, of the Knough survey about three-quarters of a mile from the center of the town.

This acreage will be the first drilled by this company and drilling operations will begin as soon as sufficient stock has been sold. A portion of the profits from this well, when we bring it in, will be used for the development of the other two leases.

Leases adjacent to ours in block forty have recently sold for thirty-five hundred dollars. There are none on the market as this ad is written. Leases in blocks within a short distance from ours are being held at from five thousand to fifteen thousand dollars per acre.

At the present rapid advance in price of leases, the holdings of the company in this field alone will be worth the entire amount of the capitalization of the company within a very short time. Our lease is not for sale. There is oil, and plenty of it, in block forty, and we are going to get it. Are you going to participate in it?

THE BEST IN ERATH

The Company owns a lease on twenty acres out of the Robert Brown survey in Erath County not far from the famous Duke and Knowles wells of the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

The report is current in Fort Worth that the Duke No. 2 of this company has been brought in with a production of forty thousand barrels.

Erath County adjoins Commanche County on the west. Commanche County is all practically proven territory. The land of gushers.

Our lease here is in the center of a triangle of wells; one being drilled on the Cage Ranch, one on the Circle Ranch, and one on the Morgan Mill location. When one of these comes in, our holdings here will be worth thousands of dollars more than they cost us.

THE BEST IN CORYELL

The Company owns a lease on fifty acres in Coryell County, just southeast of Commanche County, and in the famous Pennsylvania formation.

Several test wells are being drilled near our location, by the big companies. It is perhaps not necessary to say that the big companies have been successful in oil exploitation.

We have a wonderfully promising location here.

Why anyone should hesitate to make a conservative investment in a conservative HONEST-TO-GOODNESS oil company, such as ours, is past our understanding, for just so sure as the SUN RISES IN THE EAST will we strike oil. People who know tell us that is only a matter of raising enough money, getting up a rig, and then at the first fall of the drill upon the ground brings us that much nearer the pay sand.

We are not going to tell you that this is a get-rich-quick scheme, but being conservative business men of affairs we say to you that we have put our money in the deal believing that there is oil on our lease and believing that we will make a great deal of money in the investment.

We offer you the same chance to participate with us. Each share shares alike in the profits.

We think that shares in this company are a good investment. Have we convinced you of it? If we have, here's where you sign

Missionary Society

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church met at the church last Monday for Bible Study. Mrs. W. G. Harbin was the teacher of the class and a splendid lesson was enjoyed. The Society decided to begin the study of John at their next Bible study day. Mrs. C. D. Lay and Miss Jessie Guffy each delighted the ladies with a solo.

Rev. and Mrs. Jeff Davis of Caldwell visited their sister, Mrs. J. W. Coleman Tuesday. They were en route home from Waco where Mrs. Davis has been staying while her husband was in France. Mr. Davis was a Red Cross Chaplain in a base hospital in Paris. But at the time the armistice was signed he was on the firing line. They are returning to Caldwell to resume the pastorate of the Baptist church there—the church having granted him a leave of absence for his work in the army.

Rev. B. B. Blaylock spent Tuesday in Taylor where he attended a meeting of representatives of different Baptist churches in this district. The meeting was called to discuss and plan for the launching of the Texas Baptist Loyalty Loan in this section of the state.

Misses Gladys Watson and Vance Hardy went to Austin last Tuesday afternoon for a visit of a few days with university friends.

Mrs. C. D. Lay has received news of the arrival in New York of her nephew, Clifton Clower, of Houston, who has been in France since July. He was injured in one of the drives overthere, and as a result lost one of his legs. He writes that he is feeling fine and will be coming home in a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Whites have returned from San Antonio where Mr. Whites has been in the service. He has lately received his discharge.
